Dear Mr. Miles:

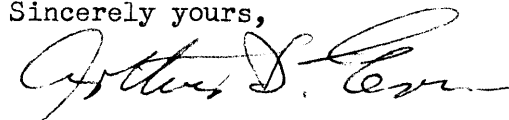

On behalf of the School of Logistics and myself I wish to take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation for the excellent address given our Value Engineering Class 63-A on 15 January 1963.

Your presentation on "Concepts and Approach to Value Engineering" was very well received by the class and certainly constitutes a valuable contribution to the success of the course. You are to be commended for your expert coverage of this subject and the effective manner in which you made the presentation.

We sincerely appreciate the cooperation and interest extended by you and your fine company, and look forward to a visit from you again in the near future. We extend an open and cordial invitation for you and your company to visit our school any time you are in the area.

Again, thanks for a job well done.

Sincerely yours,

Arthur D. Even
