Volume 2, Number 1, 1982

Periodical literature is the cutting edge of women's studies scholarship, feminist theory, and much of women's culture. Feminist Periodicals: A Current Listing of Contents is published by the Office of the Women's Studies Librarian-at-Large on a quarterly basis with the intent of increasing public awareness of feminist periodicals. It is our hope that Feminist Periodicals will serve several purposes: to keep the reader abreast of current topics in feminist literature; to increase readers' familiarity with a wide spectrum of feminist periodicals; and to provide the requisite bibliographic information should a reader wish to subscribe to a journal or to obtain a particular article at her library or through interlibrary loan. (Users will need to be aware of the limitations of the new copyright law with regard to photocopying of copyrighted materials.)

Table of contents pages from current issues of major feminist journals are reproduced in each issue of Feminist Periodicals. These are preceded by a briefly annotated listing of the journals we have selected. This listing provides the following information on each journal (as available):

1. Year of first publication.
2. Frequency of publication.
3. Subscription price(s).
4. Subscription address.
5. Current editor.
6. Editorial address (if different from subscription address).
7. International Standard Serials Number (ISSN).
8. Library of Congress (LC) catalog card number.
9. OCLC, Inc. Control Number.
10. Locations where the journal is held in the UW system.
11. Publications in which the journal is indexed.
12. Subject focus/statement of purpose of the journal.

ii.

Please note that in the actual text, only the numbers 1 to 12 are used to identify the different categories of information. Interested readers will find more complete information on feminist periodicals in Guide to Women's Publishing by Polly Joan and Andrea Chesman (Dustbooks, 1978) and in Women's Periodicals and Newspapers: A Union List of the Holdings of Madison Area Libraries, edited by James P. Danky, compiled by Maureen E. Hady, Barry Christopher Noona, and Neil E. Strache (Boston: G.K. Hall, 1981; due 1982).

Suggestions for improvement of Feminist Periodicals are gratefully received. We would particularly appreciate assistance from readers in the UW System with our efforts to keep the holdings information complete and up-to-date. Please let us know about new subscriptions, subscriptions we have overlooked, cancellations, or other pertinent information.

BREAD & ROSES

A Women's Journal
 of Issues and the Arts

Volume 3, Number 1
 Winter 1982

Features

- Lauren Liebling 10 Naming the Goddess Within
 "We know the magic is working when the Goddess has come alive in each of us . . . when the words and the pictures and the movement and the song flow out of us easily, as if there were no separations between."
- Terry Winant 14 Decoding the Grammar of the Image
 A philosopher discovers the grammar rules at work in an ad for the movie "Bloodline," creating a provocative new theory for why we assume female images to be "third person passive."
- Marjorie Agosin 22 The Silent Voices: Poets of Latin America
 They sing of sensuality, of bodies and youth, of life—and their voices too often go unheard, their names unrecognized. Yet the women poets of Latin America are opening up new directions for all women poets of our age.

Beyond "Woman of Valor": How an Orthodox Woman Evolved into a Fervent Feminist

by Blu Greenberg

Starting out as a young woman steeped in the Jewish tradition and happy with her prescribed role in the family and community, the author gradually became conscious of various inequities in Jewish practice. Over a period of 20 years, she slowly began to perceive how they fell into a pattern. As she confronted this reality, she was forced to face her own fears and conflicts—and those of the Orthodox community she is a part of.

An Egalitarian Hagada

A special pull-out-and-save section

By Aviva Cantor

Over the past decade, women have been holding feminist seders and have drawn strength and inspiration from joining in such ceremonies that focus on and celebrate our experiences. Now the time has come to share these insights with a wider audience, and to make them an integral part of the Passover ceremony. The non-sexist and egalitarian hagada in this special section incorporates stories and poetry by and about women—as well as other passages and poems translated from Hebrew and Yiddish—about the Holocaust and Resistance, Israel, Soviet Jewry, and struggles for justice into the traditional narrative of the Seder.

Gerta

A short story by Maxine Schur

The scene is Berlin under the Nazis. Gerta has two counts against her: she is mentally disabled—and she is Jewish. She is also unprotected....
