Feminist Periodicals

A current listing of contents

Volume 28, Number 2 (Spring 2008)

Periodical literature is the cutting edge of women's scholarship, feminist theory, and much of women's culture. Feminist Periodicals: A Current Listing of Contents is published by the Office of the University of Wisconsin System Women's Studies Librarian on a quarterly basis with the intent of increasing public awareness of feminist periodicals. It is our hope that Feminist Periodicals will serve several purposes: to keep the reader abreast of current topics in feminist literature; to increase readers' familiarity with a wide spectrum of feminist periodicals; and to provide the requisite bibliographic information should a reader wish to subscribe to a journal or to obtain a particular article at her library or through interlibrary loan. (Users will need to be aware of the limitations of the new copyright law with regard to photocopying of copyrighted materials.)

Table of contents pages from current issues of major feminist journals are reproduced in each issue of Feminist Periodicals, followed by a comprehensive annotated listing of all journals we have selected. As publication schedules vary enormously, not every periodical will have table of contents pages reproduced in each issue of FP. The annotated listing provides the following information on each journal:

1. Year of first publication.
2. Frequency of publication.
3. Subscription prices (print only; for online prices, consult publisher).
4. Subscription address.
5. Current editor.
6. Editorial address (if different from subscription address).
7. International Standard Serials Number (ISSN).
8. OCLC, Inc. Control Number.
9. Selected publications in which the journal is indexed.
10. Selected fulltext products in which publication appears or vendor intermediaries who make the full text available.
11. Subject focus/statement of purpose of the journal.

Please note that in the actual text, only the numbers 1 to 11 are used to identify the different categories of information.

Our goal in FP is to represent English-language periodicals from around the world that focus on women's studies or women's issues. Generally, we do not include mainstream newsstand magazines. We are also unable to include periodicals that lack a complete table of contents. We encourage feminist serials to build a full table of contents into their regular format to facilitate possible inclusion in FP and indexing elsewhere.

Interested readers will find more complete information on feminist periodicals in DWM: A Directory of Women's Media, published by the National Council for Research on Women (530 Broadway at Spring Street, New York, NY 10012); and in Women's Periodicals and Newspapers: A Union List of the Holdings of Madison Area Libraries, edited by James P. Danky and compiled by Maureen E. Hady, Barry Christopher, and Neill E. Strache (Boston: G.K. Hall, 1982).

Suggestions for improvements of Feminist Periodicals are gratefully received. We would particularly appreciate assistance from readers in the UW System with our efforts to keep the holding information complete and up to date. Please let us know about new subscriptions, subscriptions we have overlooked, cancellations, or other pertinent information. Feminist Periodicals is also available on microfilm at the library of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin.

University of Wisconsin System users: To locate these periodicals within the UW System, do a UW System/Universal Borrowing search from your campus catalog (labeled variously "Other Libraries," "More Libraries," "Other Catalogs," "Other UW Catalogs," etc.) If information on actual holdings (volumes and issues) is not in the records retrieved, contact the Reference Department for each library of interest:

ECHO ECO ECHO

The "Test for Echo" work was created in conjunction with the "Inner Sanctum Project-Rio Grande River Basin" by Michael Alford (Artworx5150@aol.com)

All of the organic materials were ground together and mixed with the river water to create an all natural pigment. The pigment was then applied to a synthetic paper made from recycled plastics. Of particular note, as natural organic materials were used in creating the artwork, the color has changed over time much like the leaves on a tree throughout the year.

- Kite in Flight: Girls' Identity and Empowerment
 in Dating Relationships 1
Michele L. Parker
J. Maria Bermúdez
Ruth Neustifter

Adolescent girls are subjected to strong sociocultural forces as they shape and discover their sense of identity. We propose the therapeutic concerns of young women may be relieved by increased empowerment achieved through identity development and the strengthening of interpersonal boundaries. Feminist family therapy and Bowen family systems theory are integrated to offer a clinical approach toward greater empowerment through increased differentiation in the context of dating relationships. This approach applies a developmental perspective to the unique challenges faced by young women in Western society. The metaphor of a "Kite in Flight" is offered to help therapists conceptualize the elements of the model and goals for treatment. Case examples and interventions are provided, as well as the model application for specific clinical considerations.

KEYWORDS. Adolescence, identity, feminist family therapy

- Crossing the Color Line: Emerging Realities
 About Eating Disorders and Treatment with Women of Color 21
Lisa C. Palmer

Diversification continues to change the landscape of therapeutic practice for the treatment of eating disorders, and challenges myths that the illness primarily afflicts upper middle-class college-age White women driven toward American images of slenderness (Gordon, Perez, & Joiner, 2002). However, researchers have more recently begun to explore eating disorder etiology amongst ethnic groups, and are increasingly aware that women from non-western origins including Latin and African cultures suffer (Gordon, 2001), as well as from such places as China, Japan, India, and Pakistan (Abdollahi & Mann, 2001; Nakamura, Yamamoto, Yamazaki, Kawashima, Muto, Someya, Sakurai, & Nozoe, 2000). The aim of this article is to review prevalence and emerging realities amongst diverse populations, and deconstruct prevailing stereotypes to address the impact of such myths on clinical practice, detection, and prevention. Discussion and approaches are offered to help clinicians enhance, refine, and develop their cultural competencies when working frequently marginalized populations.

KEYWORDS. Ethnicity, eating disorders, cultural competency

- A Female Therapist's Dilemma:
 Alliance versus Accommodation
 in Feminist-Informed Couple Therapy 43
Margaret L. Keeling

This article is an examination of the subjective experience of a female therapist as she establishes a therapeutic relationship with heterosexual couples in feminist-informed therapy. A female therapist's efforts to engage and ally with male clients may feel similar to gendered patterns of accommodation and deference from her personal experience, and may also perpetuate male gender privilege in therapy. In addition, efforts to build a therapeutic relationship with the male partner in couple therapy may detract from the relationship with the female partner. This dynamic has implications at many levels, within and beyond the therapy room. A review of relevant literature is provided, followed by a case illustration from the author's practice.

KEYWORDS. Feminist therapy, couple therapy, gender, therapy process

FEATURES

- 34 Your Money, Your Vote

BY MARTHA BURK

With a sour U.S. economy that often ignores women's particular needs, it's time for us to wise up about government money matters—and then use our proven political clout to make our interests count.

Snapshot: The Women's Vote, 2008

BY CELINDA LAKE
AND MATT PRICE

Which issues most concern women in this historic election year; and how do they differ from men's concerns? These pollsters asked, and here's what they found out.

- 42 Too Poor to Parent?

BY GAYLYNN BURROUGHS

Black children are twice as likely as white children to enter U.S. foster care. The culprit: Our inattention to poverty.

- 46 Full Court Press

BY MICHELE KORT

A California state university pays a high price for sex discrimination in its athletic department.

- 52 Out-of-Body Image

BY CAROLINE HELDMAN

Self-objectification—seeing ourselves through others' eyes—impairs women's body image, mental health, motor skills and even sex lives.

Rain and Thunder

A Radical Feminist Journal of Discussion and Activism

Issue #38

Spring Equinox 2008

Women have been taught that, for us, the earth is flat, and that if we venture out, we will fall off the edge. Some of us have ventured out
nevertheless, and so far
we have not fallen off.

It is my faith, my feminist faith, that we will not.

Celebrating the Goddess in Every Woman

NO. 74
VISIONS OF GODDESS:
THE QUEEN

FEATURES 6 WHY WE NEED TO CLAIM THE QUEEN

Barbara Ardinger

We women now live long beyond menopause. We need to name and honor a fourth stage of our lives: the Queen.

10 FIND YOUR CENTER OF POWER: PUT ON THE GIRDLE OF THE QUEEN

Lisa Sarasohn

A queen is sovereign in her own right. She is autonomous, self-governing. Being queenly means wielding your womanly power in the realm of your own life and in the other domains entrusted to your care. And the seat of her power (and yours) is in — the belly.

16 CROWN YOURSELF QUEEN: CEREMONY FOR CLAIMING YOUR SOVEREIGNTY

Mama Donna Henes

While changing our hair, image, demeanor and wardrobe might seem superficial, it can symbolically represent the full range of changes — physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual — that we are experiencing, changes that mark our entry into a new phase of our lives. It represents transformation from the outside in.

19 QUEEN FOR A DAY

Debbie Philp

The Queen says, “You have lived for others. You have raised your children. You have kept your house. Now,” she says, “live for yourself. In becoming that which you truly desire, you will find me. I am within you. I have been there all along.”

11. "Berkeley Journal of Gender, Law & Justice, a continuation of the Berkeley Women's Law Journal, is guided by an editorial policy which distinguishes us from other law reviews and feminist journals. Our mandate is to publish research, analysis, narrative, theory, and commentary that address the lives and struggles of underrepresented women. We believe that excellence in feminist legal scholarship requires critical examination of the intersection of gender with one or more other axes of subordination, including, but not limited to, race, class, sexual orientation, and disability. Therefore discussions that treat women as a monolithic group do not fall within our mandate. Because conditions of inequality are continually changing, our mandate is continually evolving."

"Femspec, a peer-reviewed journal, is interested in developing a community of like-minded people engaged in speculating, theorizing, creating and questioning gender across the boundaries, including issues of sexual orientation. We emphasize interdisciplinary approaches, and encourage work on teaching as well as literary and cultural criticism and creative material. We hope an approach to pedagogy will bring in work from a wider area of disciplines. We are interested in a variety of feminisms and aim to be inclusive of ethnic and cultural diversity in an internationalist perspective. We are also committed to publishing feminist experimental prose and poetic works, and to experimenting across media. Our impetus came from the collectively-perceived lack of attention to non-linear writing, sf, fantasy, magical realism and supernatural works in feminist journals and audiences; the lack of consistently evolving developed levels of feminism in sf criticism; and the inadequacy of magical realism publishing outlets in the U.S."

11. "Persimmon Tree showcases an impressive variety of literature and art by women over 60, many still working well into their 80s and 90s. Many of the writers and artists are well-known: Marilyn French, Ruth Stone, Grace Paley, E. M. Broner, Paula Gunn Allen, Jane Lazarre, Faith Ringgold, and Nicole Hollander. Others are lesser known, while some are newly developing their craft in their later years. All of them are at the height of their creative powers, and all of them express the shared, though diverse experiences of aging women, from late middle age to late old age. Persimmon Tree is intended to fill a niche that has been neglected by contemporary publishing, whether in print or online. There is a growing body of work by male writers and artists who are entering or well into old age. But the comparable body of work by aging women in much smaller and mostly limited to a few already well-known writers and artists. Women are creating, but they are not getting the exposure they deserve."

The aim of Reproductive Health Matters is "to promote laws, policies, research and services that meet women's reproductive health needs and support women's right to decide whether, when and how to have children.... [its] women-centered perspective...allows us to identify and understand women's reproductive health needs, and therefore evaluate and improve on existing policy and practice to women's benefit.... To this end, the journal explores what is meant by women's needs and how these can best be met. It addresses fundamental values, concerns and dilemmas, acknowledging the multi-faceted nature of problems and solutions. Finally, it reflects on commonalities and differences in goals and points of view among those involved in the field – in order to foster increased communication and cooperation, new thinking and action, and new forms of consensus."

11. "Studies in Gender and Sexuality is a response to the excitement attendant to recent research and writing by scholars and clinicians. It provides a forum for examining gender and sexuality that is both multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary. As clinicians and scholars who have written and practiced at the intersection of feminist theory and clinical psychoanalysis, the editors are especially interested in those areas of controversy that invite the divergent perspectives and insights of different disciplines. Early issues of SGS focus on transgender identities and intersexuality; contemporary readings of the category of perversion; puberty and adolescence revised and revisited; and the intersections among class, race, and gender in theory, culture, and the clinical situation. The primary goal of SGS is to promote dialogue on these and other timely topics among clinicians, researchers, and theorists. Consonant with this goal, the journal also publishes related work from the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences, where questions involving gender and sexuality are currently in lively debate."

"Trivia: Voices of Feminism is a public forum for the creative and the critical thinking of that great diversity of women who insist on our primacy, and who in league with and in the name of all the other endangered species on this planet, refuse to accept the life-destroying status quo. We publish feminist writing in the form of literary essays, experimental prose, poetry, translations, and reviews. We encourage women writers to take risks with language and forms so as to give their ideas the most original and vital expression possible. Our larger purpose is to foster a body of rigorous, creative and independent feminist thought."

11. "Women & Language is an interdisciplinary research periodical and newsletter, associated with the Organization for the Study of Communication Language and Gender, which seeks to provide a feminist forum for those interested in communication, language and gender. It raises questions on the construction of gender and the interconnections among sex, gender, race, class, and heterosexual hegemony with regard to symbolic communications and the impacts of masculinist communication paradigms. Women & Language welcomes completed research, essays, personal narratives, poetry, as well as work in progress and information sharing on conferences, publications, and so on. It includes contributions from all disciplines, and particularly looks for interdisciplinary work."
