FEMINIST PERIODICALS

A CURRENT LISTING OF CONTENTS

Volume 17, Number 3

Fall 1997

Periodical literature is the cutting edge of women's scholarship, feminist theory, and much of women's culture. Feminist Periodicals: A Current Listing of Contents is published by the Office of the University of Wisconsin System Women's Studies Librarian on a quarterly basis with the intent of increasing public awareness of feminist periodicals. It is our hope that Feminist Periodicals will serve several purposes: to keep the reader abreast of current topics in feminist literature; to increase readers' familiarity with a wide spectrum of feminist periodicals; and to provide the requisite bibliographic information should a reader wish to subscribe to a journal or to obtain a particular article at her library or through interlibrary loan. (Users will need to be aware of the limitations of the new copyright law with regard to photocopying of copyrighted materials.)

Table of contents pages from current issues of major feminist journals are reproduced in each issue of Feminist Periodicals, preceded by a comprehensive annotated listing of all journals we have selected. As publication schedules vary enormously, not every periodical will have table of contents pages reproduced in each issue of FP. The annotated listing provides the following information on each journal:

1. Year of first publication.
2. Frequency of publication.
3. U.S. subscription price(s).
4. Subscription address.
5. Current editor.
6. Editorial address (if different from subscription address).
7. International Standard Serials Number (ISSN).
8. Library of Congress (LC) catalog card number.
9. OCLC, Inc. Control Number.
10. Locations where the journal is held in the UW System.
11. Publications in which the journal is indexed.
12. Subject focus/statement of purpose of the journal.

Please note that in the actual text, only the numbers 1 to 12 are used to identify the different categories of information.

ii.

Our goal is to have represented in FP all English-language feminist periodicals with a substantial national or regional readership, with an emphasis on scholarly journals and small press offerings. We do not include publications which, though feminist in philosophy, do not focus solely on women's issues. Nor, with few exceptions, do we include newsstand magazines. We are also forced to omit periodicals which lack a complete table of contents. We encourage feminist serials to build a full table of contents into their regular format to facilitate the indexing feminist literature sorely needs.

Interested readers will find more complete information on feminist periodicals in DWM: A Directory of Women's Media published by the National Council for Research on Women (530 Broadway at Spring Street, New York, NY 10012); and in Women's Periodicals and Newspapers: A Union List of the Holdings of Madison Area Libraries, edited by James P. Danky, compiled by Maureen E. Hady, Barry Christopher, and Neill E. Strache (Boston: G.K. Hall, 1982).

Suggestions for improvements of Feminist Periodicals are gratefully received. We would particularly appreciate assistance from readers in the UW-System with our efforts to keep the holding information complete and up to date. Please let us know about new subscriptions, subscriptions we have overlooked, cancellations, or other pertinent information. Feminist Periodicals is also available on microfilm at the library of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin.

12. The Berkeley Women's Law Journal is guided by an editorial policy that distinguishes us from other law reviews and feminist periodicals. Our mandate is to publish research, analysis, narrative, theory, and commentary that address the lives and struggles of underrepresented women. We believe that excellence in feminist legal scholarship requires critical examination of the intersection of gender with one or more other axes of subordination, including, but not limited to, race, class, sexual orientation, and disability. Therefore, discussions of women's issues that treat women as a monolithic group do not fall within our mandate. Because conditions in inequality are continually changing, our mandate is also continually changing.

12. *Feminist Studies was founded to encourage analytic responses to feminist issues and to open new areas of research, criticism and speculation. The editors are committed to providing a forum for feminist analysis, debate, and exchange. The feminist movement has demonstrated that the study of women is more than a compensatory project. Instead, feminism has the potential fundamentally to reshape the way we view the world. We wish not just to interpret women's experiences but to change women's condition. For us, feminist thought represents a transformation of consciousness, social forms, and modes of action."

Key concerns in this area include the following: geographical variations in gender divisions and structures of patriarchy; the cultural construction and the cultural politics of gender; the intersections between gender, 'race', ethnicity, nationality, sexuality, class, age and other social divisions. The journal will provide a forum for debate in human geography and related disciplines on these themes. By drawing together these contributions, the journal will highlight the relevance of geographical research to feminism and women's studies.'

12. The aim of Reproductive Health Matters is "to promote laws, policies, research and services that meet women's reproductive health needs and support women's right to decide whether, when and how to have children. . . . [its] women-centered perspective. . . allows us to identify and understand women's reproductive health needs, and therefore evaluate and improve on existing policy and practice to women's benefit. . . . To this end, the journal explores what is meant by women's needs and how these can best be met. It addresses fundamental values, concerns and dilemmas, acknowledging the multi-faceted nature of problems and solutions. Finally, it reflects on commonalities and differences in goals and points of view among those involved in the field – in order to foster increased communication and cooperation, new thinking and action, and new forms of consensus."

12. 'Women & Language' is an interdisciplinary research periodical and newsletter, associated with the Organization for the Study of Communication Language and Gender, which seeks to provide a feminist forum for those interested in communication, language and gender. It raises questions on the construction of gender and the interconnections among sex, gender, race, class, and heterosexual hegemony with regard to symbolic communications and the impacts of masculinist communication paradigms. Women & Language welcomes completed research, essays, personal narratives, poetry, as well as work in progress and information sharing on conferences, publications, and so on. It includes contributions from all disciplines, and particularly looks for interdisciplinary work.

12. "Women and Therapy is the only professional journal that focuses entirely on the complex interrelationship between women and the therapeutic experience. The journal is devoted to descriptive, theoretical, clinical, empirical, and multicultural perspectives on the topic of women and therapy. Women comprise the overwhelming majority of clients in therapy. Yet there has been little emphasis on this area in the training of therapists or in the professional literature. Women & Therapy is designed to fill this void of information."

"We called our piece Mantle of the Past because of the great significance the Mantle had in the old tenement rooms of our childhood's. The Mantle cloth was the first thing you would see as you entered the room and everyone always took great pride in this. We could all remember seeing clothes hanging underneath as most people didn't have much money and had to wash their kids' clothes each evening for wear the next day. Whilst working on the project we all reminisced of old stories about some of the more memorable characters who lived and died in our area. The objects on top of the Mantle each symbolize different characters all of whom were women. Each symbol represents a different story, a tale...."

Kass Elan Morgain, "Mandala," collage, 15" x 12", 1987. Photo: Robert Hawkins

Kass Elan Morgain is a visual artist, a weaver of words, and a practicing Reiki Master. She lives near the Rocky Mountains of British Columbia, learning the lessons of letting go as her four children grow into adulthood. Her collages are explorations of her own spiritual journey, and a spiritual practice in themselves. Each work reveals its own true nature in the process of its creation. She has taken so much to heart the family myth of her Irish heritage that she can no longer be differentiated from the real thing.

About the Cover

In 1980 fiber artist Deidre Scherer began to work with the elderly in nursing homes, and became "fixated on the richness and experience in an older face." Her realistic cloth portraits of old and dying people confront the viewer with his or her own mortality. Her work has been exhibited internationally and featured as cover art on a variety of publications including, When I Am an Old Woman I Shall Wear Purple. Now in her early 50s, Scherer lives with her husband Steve Levine in an old clapboard house on a dirt road in the village of Williamsville, Vermont.

"CHANGE OF KEY," © Deidre Scherer, 1996 from Deidre Scherer: Work in Fabric and Thread, C&T Publishing, release date May 1998, (800) 284-1114.

2 From the Editor

3 Kol Ishah

Dancing the Bible • Jewish Poles and polls • Chicks with guitars • Israeli women get shoved to the back of the bus.

8 Letters

What's in a (woman's) name, Sinead O'Connor's Israeli misfortune, recovering a queen, and other responses from our readers.

10 Confrontations

by Sarah Blustein

A feminist? A Jew? A mother? A professional? We asked our former interns (aged 23 to 40) to talk about Life after LILITH, what happens to the identity puzzle when "none of the edges match."

26 A Secret Affliction: Manic Depression in Jews

by Terese Loeb Kreuzer

Why Jewish families are so desperate to hide it, and why women may be more at risk.

Daughters and Fathers: From Silence to Speech

14 Introduction

by Susan Schnur

15 Tetley, My Dad and Cyberspace

Gail Todd reconstructs her father's lost world, cracking the silence a pogrom begat.

17 Prayer Making

a poem by Shari Berkowitz

18 Finally, "I Love You"

Sarah Cooper moves past a dad's nastiness to understand that she can honor him and still be true to herself.

21 A Feygele Zingt

Faye Kellerstein on how, despite sexist strictures, an Orthodox daughter becomes her father's voice.

22 Lot's Daughters Reveal It Was Child Abuse

a poem by Susan Gross

23 Grandfather's Voice

a poem by Marcella Fleischman Pixley

23 Empty Lots

a poem by Cassandra Sagan Bell

Cover: © Judy Hausman, The Red Blouse. Born in London, raised in Antwerp, Judy Hausman has lived in New York since 1941. Her work has appeared in solo and group shows and is in private collections in the United States, England and Israel. For further information, contact LILITH Magazine.

30 In the Children's Library

by Susan Schnur

We asked child-reviewers what they thought about this year's crop of "girl books" and others; then we asked their parents to explain.

37 Jewish Latency

by Susan Weidman Schneider

In the years between college and careers, childhood and childbearing, 20-something Jews are slipping through the cracks—and no one seems to care. Here's how to help them hang on.

40 Book Reviews

45 The Creative Edge

46 Tsena Rena

Essential resources if you're Jewish and female—Part One of our comprehensive guide to Jewish women's organizations.

48 Down From the Ivory Tower

Launching our new column on the latest feminist academic advances are quick takes on what "gay" means to Israeli life, the gender of literature and other juicy items from the hallowed halls.
