Dear Larry:

Just a note to tell you that all of us appreciated the Seminar that you and your associates put on in Pittsfield. All things considered, it stimulated more people in our organization than has been done in years and I am quite sure that the results will be high, beneficial to our operations.

Conducting a large seminar at the plant location is certainly the way to do the job, as indicated by what might be called practically a revival-meeting spirit which existed throughout the Department at the close of the program.

Thanks again, and may I wish you a Very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Sincerely,

[Handwritten signatures and scribbles]
