Dear Larry:

Thanks for your recent letter and the bill for editorial work in connection with the preparation of the Second Edition of TECHNIQUES OF VALUE ANALYSIS AND ENGINEERING. We were pleased to hear from you.

We can have your manuscript reproduced here. Just bring or send it in when it is in finished form.

The payment for the editorial work in connection with Chapter 10 of the new edition can be made as an advance on earned royalties of the current edition. If you want me to handle the payment in this manner, please drop me a line and I will prepare the voucher.

Best regards,

Sincerely yours,

DATE 9 12 70 SUBJECT Duplicating

Dear Ty;

In a few weeks we will have one copy of the manuscript of the revised edition of Techniques of Value Analysis and Engineering ready.

We will bring it to NYC.

Can you advise us where, preferably in your Co. we can take it to have it Zeroxed. There will be several hundred pages, and we would expect that it would cost about 3¢ per page to get the duplicates.

Warmest Personal Regards,

Larry Miles

Attached is page # 65 of Techniques of Value
Analysis and Engineering.

Note at the bottom, the foot note, which is applicable to the chapter on Creativity.

Would you please have some one provide from McGraw-Hill's infinite supply of information on books, two or three good references, preferably with more current date lines.
It Mr Vin Fange has revised his book, I would again like to include it.

Thank you much,
