Dear Charles:

It certainly was an interesting opportunity to meet you and your associates during the winter. I suppose it will always be one of the regrets in my life that I didn't have the opportunity to provide a more thoroughly valuable discussion to you on the vital technology of Value Engineering because of the unseasonable storm.

Sincerely,

L. D. Miles

MR. LAWRENCE D. MILES, MANAGER
Value Service
General Electric Company
Schenectady, New York

Dear Mr. Miles:

May I take this opportunity to thank you for your splendid talk at our Engineering Meeting.

I appreciate the difficulties you encountered in making your visit with us, and our "Sunny South" did not make matters any simpler. I hope your trip to Boston was as pleasant as possible under the circumstances.

Thank you again for your interest and cooperation.

Yours truly,

Superintendent, Engineering
