Feminist Periodicals

A Current Listing of Contents

Volume 32, Numbers 3-4 (Summer-Fall 2012)

Periodical literature is the cutting edge of women's scholarship, feminist theory, and much of women's culture. Feminist Periodicals: A Current Listing of Contents is published by the Office of the University of Wisconsin System Women's Studies Librarian on a quarterly basis with the intent of increasing public awareness of feminist periodicals. It is our hope that Feminist Periodicals will serve several purposes: to keep the reader abreast of current topics in feminist literature; to increase readers' familiarity with a wide spectrum of feminist periodicals; and to provide the requisite bibliographic information should a reader wish to subscribe to a journal or to obtain a particular article at her library or through interlibrary loan. (Users will need to be aware of the limitations of copyright law with regard to photocopying of copyrighted materials.)

Table of contents pages from current issues of major feminist journals are reproduced in each issue of Feminist Periodicals, followed by a comprehensive annotated listing of all journals we have selected. As publication schedules vary enormously, not every periodical will have table of contents pages reproduced in each issue of FP. The annotated listing provides the following information on each journal:

- 1. Year of first publication.
- 2. Frequency of publication.
- 3. Subscription prices (print only; for online prices, consult publisher).
- 4. Subscription address.
- 5. Current editor.
- 6. Editorial address (if different from subscription address).
- 7. International Standard Serials Number (ISSN).
- 8. OCLC, Inc. Control Number.
- 9. Selected publications in which the journal is indexed.
- 10. Selected fulltext products in which publication appears or vendor intermediaries who make the full text available.
- 11. Subject focus/statement of purpose of the journal.

Please note that in the actual text, only the numbers 1 to 11 are used to identify the different categories of information.

Our goal in Feminist Periodicals is to represent English-language periodicals from around the world that focus on gender, women's studies, or women's issues. Generally, we do not include mainstream newsstand magazines. We are also unable to include periodicals that lack a complete table of contents. We encourage feminist serials to build a full table of contents into their regular format to facilitate possible inclusion in FP and indexing elsewhere.

University of Wisconsin System users: To locate these periodicals within the UW System, do a UW System/Universal Borrowing search from your campus catalog (labeled variously "Other Libraries," "More Libraries," "Other Catalogs," "Other UW Catalogs," etc.) If information on actual holdings (volumes and issues) is not in the records retrieved, contact the Reference Department at the library of interest.

Suggestions for improvements of Feminist Periodicals are gratefully received. We would particularly appreciate assistance from readers in the UW System with our efforts to keep the holding information complete and up to date. Please let us know about new subscriptions, subscriptions we have overlooked, cancellations, or other pertinent information.

Feminist Periodicals: A Current Listing of Contents (ISSN 1941-725X) is published online, quarterly, by Phyllis Holman Weisbard, UW System Women's Studies Librarian, 430 Memorial Library, 728 State Street, Madison, WI 53706. Front Cover

"The shared support and connection of other women allows us to heal from the patriarchy that has waged war on us for millennia, and joining together in the true spirit of sisterhood it is a revolutionary act. By forming diverse and powerful networks we enhance our own lives, our communities and the earth. The co-creation of women's culture is a space where we can feel safe, celebrated and empowered, and when we gather together in circles of unity, miracles will happen."

Back Cover

Pegi Eyers, "Earth Mother Motorcycle," 2010, 13 x 8", mixed media assemblage.

"The Goddess Spirituality movement seeks to re-sanctify the natural places of the world and the attitudes and icons of our culture. Why not an Earth Mother on a motorcycle? Commemorative shrines and home altars venerating the Divine Feminine with ritual tools, candles, fruit, flowers and sacred objects are a tradition going back thousands of years. The Venus of Willendorf's wild ride was painstakingly and reverently created with bits of cut paper, fabric and ephemera."

As an Independent Curator, Pegi Eyers has developed exhibition projects with artist collectives and arts organizations, and has been employed as an Arts Publicist and Fundraiser. Her acrylic and oil painting, mixed-media assemblage, handbound artist's books and intricate "cut paper" pieces have been exhibited in multiple galleries, solo and group shows. She lives in the beautiful Ontario countryside near the eclectic city of Peterborough. "My creative vision is connected to the sacred iconography of the Divine Feminine, and to express Her many forms in paint and mixed media. Currently I am writing a prose poetry series as inspired by the themes of women's empowerment and matriarchal history." Celebrating HER! MODERN ISLAM: TWO VIEWS ON TURKEY.....16

Hülya Gülbahar is a long-time secular activist in Turkey who blames a rise in killings of women in her country on the rise of Islamic conservatism. Ayşe Böhürler, a Muslim and feminist, explains why she believes Turkey's government is addressing many of the inequities faced by women. by Caroline Muscat

MORAL COURAGE AND PASSIONATE POLITICS.....20

Irshad Manji's newest book, Allah, Liberty and Love, is a treatise on moral courage that's tied to religious reform. In this interview, she discusses her belief that engaging with those with whom we may disagree is an integral part of one's spiritual journey. by Joanna Chiu

RED ROCK: CHINESE WOMEN TAKE TO THE STAGE...24

Leading female rock musicians in China talk about Western constructs of equality and discuss the constraints of being a successful rock musician in an industry where women are only beginning to get respect.

by Ember Swift

If the mainstream pornography industry is a male-dominated propaganda machine that encourages misogyny—is the solution to have no pornography or to create ethical pornography that empowers women?

by Tina Vasquez

Po' Girl founder Allison Russell is not only well-known for her strong musical voice but has become a voice for sexual abuse survivors, too. Her decision to tell her story launched a healing process that continues for members of audiences each time she performs the anthem "No Shame." by Cindy Filipenko

32 Game Changer BY ERIN BUZUVIS

We cheer the 40th anniversary of Title IX and the activists who have fought so hard for women's equal educational opportunities-but we can't forget the challenges the law still faces.

36 Court-Martialing the Military

BY MOLLY M. GINTY New lawsuits take top brass and service academies to task for failing to prevent and prosecute rape.

40 For the Price of a Pad BY LINDA VILLAROSA

While U.S. women take menstrual protection for granted, millions of girls worldwide miss school or drop out because they can't afford sanitary napkins.

The education of girls, like these in central India, can be derailed by the lack of the simplest item: a menstrual pad.

FEATURED ARTICLES

6 GRANDMOTHER AND CHILD: RE-CONNECTING TO THE DIVINE LIGHT Sharon Hargett

By looking deeply into the eyes of children, we can remember who we are, rather than who we've become.

Ambassadors of Love Jen McConnel

Between the influences of the two beautiful Crones in my family, I spent my childhood surrounded by majestic women.

I Snowy Blossoms of a Second Spring Bee Smith

As I write this I can see the lacy blossom of hawthorn from my window. The blossom reminds me of the Goddess card I drew this morning. Croning is not a second youth, but it is a reenlivening, at least for me.

16 THERE'S AN OLD WOMAN I AM BEGINNING TO KNOW Susan Weed

She-who-keeps-her-wise-blood-inside moves to her own inner rhythms as menopause winds down and the scintillating sixties come into view. How can we Crones keep ourselves hale-hearted, strong-boned, and vibrantly sensuous?

21 Secret Lives: Always Remember Who You Are

Interview with Barbara Ardinger by Melony Hudson Secret Lives is a fantastical novel of magical realism featuring the adventures of a coven of colorful crones. We interview Barbara Ardinger; author, editor, and the creator of this rollicking magical adventure.

27 Embracing the Morrigan Stephanie Woodfield

The Morrigan is a Goddess of hard truths, and I realized that She would not coddle me; I couldn't invoke Her and expect a magical fairy godmother to transform my life. In Her stern face I could see that She would help me through the process of change; She would mercilessly make me face my problems — and do the clean-up myself.

NO. 82 THE WISE WOMAN

Cover art: "Wise Woman of Peace."

Artist Suzanne Cheryl Gardner writer about this painting: The Wise Woman holds mourning doves, symbols of the feminine energies of peace within. She teaches us lessons of patience, calm, stillness and compassion. The Wise Woman understands that peace comes from peace within. See Suzanne's work at www.suzannesart.com.

"Aspasia is an international peer-reviewed yearbook that brings out the best scholarsip in the field of interdisciplinary women's and gender history focused on—and produced in—Central, Eastern, and Southeastern Europe. This region includes such countries as Albania, Belarus, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, the Czech Republic, Estonia, Greece, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Macedonia, Moldova, Montenegro, Poland, Romania, Russia, Serbia, Slovakia, Slovenia, Turkey, and Ukraine. In these countries the field of women's and gender history has developed unevenly and has remained only marginally represented in the "international" canon. Through its contributions, Aspasia transforms "European women's history" into more than Western European women's history, as is still often the case, and expands the comparative angle of research on women and gender to all parts of Europe."

"Berkeley Journal of Gender, Law & Justice, a continuation of the Berkeley Women's Law Journal, is guided by an editorial policy which distinguishes us from other law reviews and feminist journals. Our mandate is to publish research, analysis, narrative, theory, and commentary that address the lives and struggles of underrepresented women. We believe that excellence in feminist legal scholarship requires critical examination of the intersection of gender with one or more other axes of subordination, including, but not limited to, race, class, sexual orientation, and disability. Therefore discussions that treat women as a monolithic group do not fall within our mandate. Because conditions of inequality are continually changing, our mandate is continually evolving."

- "Early Modern Women: An Interdisciplinary Journal (EMWJ) is the only peer-reviewed academic journal devoted to the interdisciplinary and global study of women and gender during the years 1400 to 1700. Each issue of this annual journal reflects the energies of this rapidly growing field by publishing essays, art exhibition and book reviews, bibliographies, and a forum on a current topic of interest to the study of early modern women. Essays may consider women and gender from any region of the globe and may develop a number of scholarly perspectives, including but not limited to art history, cultural studies, history, history of philosophy, history of science, literature, music, politics, religion, or theater. Approaches that challenge current assumptions and cross disciplinary boundaries are especially welcome.'

"Feminist Criminology is dedicated to research related to women, girls and crime within the feminist critique of criminology and focuses on research theory that highlights the gendered nature of crime. Research that uses sex as a control variable often fails to illuminate the factors that predict female criminality. Feminist Criminology provides a venue for articles that place women in the center of the research question, answering different questions than the mainstream approach of controlling for sex."

The editors are committed to providing a forum for feminist analysis, debate, and exchange. The feminist movement has demonstrated that the study of women is more than a compensatory project. Instead, feminism has the potential fundamentally to reshape the way we view the world. We wish not just to interpret women's experiences but to change women's condition. For us, feminist thought represents a transformation of consciousness, social forms, and modes of action."

"Femspec, a peer-reviewed journal, is interested in developing a community of like-minded people engaged in speculating, theorizing, creating and questioning gender across the boundaries, including issues of sexual orientation. We emphasize interdisciplinary approaches, and encourage work on teaching as well as literary and cultural criticism and creative material. We hope an approach to pedagogy will bring in work from a wider area of disciplines. We are interested in a variety of feminisms and aim to be inclusive of ethnic and cultural diversity in an internationalist perspective. We are also committed to publishing feminist experimental prose and poetic works, and to experimenting across media. Our impetus came from the collectively-perceived lack of attention to non-linear writing, sf, fantasy, magical realism and supernatural works in feminist journals and audiences; the lack of consistently evolving developed levels of feminism in sf criticism; and the inadequacy of magical realism publishing outlets in the U.S."

Appropriately social sciences research is reflecting this increasing concern with gender, especially in the field of work and organization where this journal is focused. Gender, Work and Organization is the first journal to bring together a wide range of interdisciplinary and multi-disciplinary research in this field into a new international forum for debate and analysis. The journal is dedicated to advancing theory, research and applications concerning gender relations at work, the organization of gender, and the gendering of organizations. Contributions are invited from all disciplinary perspectives, including anthropology, history, labour economics, law, philosophy, politics, psychology and sociology."

These include Muslin and non-Muslim communities within the greater Middle East, and Muslim and Middle-Eastern communities elsewhere in the world. Articles dealing with men, masculinity, children and the family, or other issues of gender are also considered. The journal strives to include significant studies of theory and methodology as well as topical matter. Approximately one-third of the submissions focus on the pre-modern era, with the majority of articles focusing on the contemporary age. The journal features several fulllength articles and current book reviews. The majority of Hawwa's articles are in English. However, articles submitted in French are also considered.

Research in these areas is of interest not only to academics, but also to employers and educators involved in these sectors. We welcome contributions from a variety of disciplines and interdisciplinary perspectives and drawing on a wide range of theoretical frameworks. Our aim is to help foster and provide a focus for constructive debate and interchange of ideas between key players and experts in this field—promoting the sharing of knowledge and new understandings. GST enables those outside of academic institutions to have access to research data and results to inform strategies. responses and progress. Academic researchers will benefit from access to case studies and reports developed by practitioners and policy makers.

- 11. "The Journal of Feminist Scholarship is a peer-reviewed, open-access journal published online and aimed at promoting feminist scholarship across the disciplines, as well as expanding the reach and definitions of feminist research. We conceive the mission of the JFS as an exploration of the state of feminist scholarship at the turn of the new century, and we see this endeavor as part of a larger question of where feminism itself is heading. We wish to encourage a discussion of feminist thought for the twenty-first century. What are its directions today, and what relationship does it sustain with the foundations laid down by feminist inquiry and action of earlier centuries? We aim to publish work that explores the multiple theoretical paradigms and political agendas of contemporary and historical feminist scholarship and the potential intersections and tensions between these paradigms and agendas. We are especially interested in examining productive controversies and divergences between local and global contexts of feminism. We also welcome submissions that focus on feminist pedagogies and activism."

- 11. "Persimmon Tree showcases an impressive variety of literature and art by women over 60, many still working well into their 80s and 90s. Many of the writers and artists are well-known: Marilyn French, Ruth Stone, Grace Paley, E. M. Broner, Paula Gunn Allen, Jane Lazarre, Faith Ringgold, and Nicole Hollander. Others are lesser known, while some are newly developing their craft in their later years. All of them are at the height of their creative powers, and all of them express the shared, though diverse experiences of aging women, from late middle age to late old age. Persimmon Tree is intended to fill a niche that has been neglected by contemporary publishing, whether in print or online. There is a growing body of work by male writers and artists who are entering or well into old age. But the comparable body of work by aging women in much smaller and mostly limited to a few already well-known writers and artists. Women are creating, but they are not getting the exposure they deserve."

The aim of Reproductive Health Matters is "to promote laws, policies, research and services that meet women's reproductive health needs and support women's right to decide whether, when and how to have children... [its] women-centered perspective... allows us to identify and understand women's reproductive health needs, and therefore evaluate and improve on existing policy and practice to women's benefit.... To this end, the journal explores what is meant by women's needs and how these can best be met. It addresses fundamental values, concerns and dilemmas, acknowledging the multi-faceted nature of problems and solutions. Finally, it reflects on commonalities and differences in goals and points of view among those involved in the field in order to foster increased communication and cooperation, new thinking and action, and new forms of consensus."

It provides a forum for examining gender and sexuality that is both multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary. As clinicians and scholars who have written and practiced at the intersection of feminist theory and clinical psychoanalysis, the editors are especially interested in those areas of controversy that invite the divergent perspectives and insights of different disciplines. Early issues of SGS focus on transgender identities and intersexuality; contemporary readings of the category of perversion; puberty and adolescence revised and revisited; and the intersections among class, race, and gender in theory, culture, and the clinical situation. The primary goal of SGS is to promote dialogue on these and other timely topics among clinicians. researchers, and theorists. Consonant with this goal, the journal also publishes related work from the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences, where questions involving gender and sexuality are currently in lively debate

- 11. "The purpose of the journal is to encourage and promote an understanding of how visual culture constructs gender in context with representations of race, age, sexuality, social units, and social class. The significance of visual culture for art education rests not so much in the object or image, but in the learning and teaching processes or practices used to expose culturally learned meanings and power relations that surround the creation, consumption, valuing, and dissemination of images. Similarly, the significance of gender for art education involves issues of equity and social justice in the learning, teaching, and practicing of art."
