Feminist Periodicals

A Current Listing of Contents

Volume 34, Number 1 (Winter 2014)

Periodical literature is the cutting edge of women's scholarship, feminist theory, and much of women's culture. Feminist Periodicals: A Current Listing of Contents is published by the Office of the University of Wisconsin System Women's Studies Librarian on a quarterly basis with the intent of increasing public awareness of feminist periodicals. It is our hope that Feminist Periodicals will serve several purposes: to keep the reader abreast of current topics in feminist literature; to increase readers' familiarity with a wide spectrum of feminist periodicals; and to provide the requisite bibliographic information should a reader wish to subscribe to a journal or to obtain a particular article at her library or through interlibrary loan. (Users will need to be aware of the limitations of copyright law with regard to photocopying of copyrighted materials.)

Table of contents pages from current issues of major feminist journals are reproduced in each issue of Feminist Periodicals, followed by a comprehensive annotated listing of all journals we have selected. As publication schedules vary enormously, not every periodical will have table of contents pages reproduced in each issue of FP. The annotated listing provides the following information on each journal:

- 1. Year of first publication.
- 2. Frequency of publication.
- 3. Subscription prices (print only; for online prices, consult publisher).
- 4. Subscription address.
- 5. Current editor.
- 6. Editorial address (if different from subscription address).
- 7. International Standard Serials Number (ISSN).
- 8. OCLC, Inc. Control Number.
- 9. Selected publications in which the journal is indexed.
- 10. Selected fulltext products in which publication appears or vendor intermediaries who make the full text available.
- 11. Subject focus/statement of purpose of the journal.

Please note that in the actual text, only the numbers 1 to 11 are used to identify the different categories of information.

Our goal in Feminist Periodicals is to represent English-language periodicals from around the world that focus on gender, women's studies, or women's issues. Generally, we do not include mainstream newsstand magazines. We are also unable to include periodicals that lack a complete table of contents. We encourage feminist serials to build a full table of contents into their regular format to facilitate possible inclusion in FP and indexing elsewhere.

University of Wisconsin System users: To locate these periodicals within the UW System, do a UW System/Universal Borrowing search from your campus catalog (labeled variously "Other Libraries," "More Libraries," "Other Catalogs," "Other UW Catalogs," etc.) If information on actual holdings (volumes and issues) is not in the records retrieved, contact the Reference Department at the library of interest.

Suggestions for improvements of Feminist Periodicals are gratefully received. We would particularly appreciate assistance from readers in the UW System with our efforts to keep the holding information complete and up to date. Please let us know about new subscriptions, subscriptions we have overlooked, cancellations, or other pertinent information.

Feminist Periodicals: A Current Listing of Contents (ISSN 1941-725X) is published online, quarterly, by Karla J. Strand, UW System Gender & Women's Studies Librarian, 430 Memorial Library, 728 State Street, Madison, WI 53706. Phone (608) 263-5754.

Issue: v. 38, no. 4, Winter 2013-2014

vol. 38, no. 4 • winter 2013-14

In the Garden of Eden, long before the eating of the apple, the Holy One created the first human beings—a man, Adam, and a woman, Lilith. Lilith said, "We are equal; we come from the same earth."*

THE POLITICS OF PARADOX

Wednesdays in Mississippi

by Holly Cowan Shulman

Polly Cowan worked to bring interracial teams of glove- and hat-wearing middle-class

Northern women to Mississippi every Wednesday during Freedom Summer. Polly's daughter figures out what drove her mother's work.

BLT Judaism

by Rachel Kadish

Bacon? One woman creates her own Jewish tradition out of the most untraditional food of all.

20

Should a Jewish Girl Wear a Dirndl?

by Karen Engel

In Germany and Austria, traditional German peasant dresses, like the dirndl—once forbidden for Jews to wear—have made a comeback. Is it okay when even the author's daughters are wearing them? And here's a rundown of the restrictions on Jewish women's clothing over the centuries, in case you thought the yellow star was a first.

Sage Wolland Celebrating the Goddess in Every Woman

SANCTUARY ISSUE 83

FEATURED ARTICLES

6 GODDESS IN THE DETAILS Alison Leigh Lilly

It seemed to me as if some great Being were moving through the world, a mighty Goddess who works and dwells in the smallest things. Here She was, moving and being just as She is. I was only some small creature who reached out to touch the hem of her green mantle as She passed by.

12 Finding Isis: Sheltered by Her Wings

Jen McConnel

For the first time in this hectic, overwhelming journey, I felt a sense of peace. My husband took one look at the blissful expression on my face, and quietly removed himself, leaving me alone to talk to the Goddess.

16 Seasons of Magic: Creating Portals to the Wild

Kate Temple-West

We are creating a portal into wildness. I have dreamt of the Lenape, the first people who were the caretakers of the sacred island of Manahatta. I have learned that we are living in a time that the Lenape call the Prophecy of the Fourth Crow, a time when all people become true caretakers for our earth.

THE GODDESS TEMPLE OF ASHLAND Prema Gaia

I found my deepest refuge while alone in the forest. This led me to wonder if I would ever find a safe community in which to de-armor myself and drop deeply into my spiritual practices. Now I had found a place and a set of people that supported my quest.

23 RETREAT & RENEW by Natalie Zaman

Retreat, like magic, can be made more potent with a physical manifestation. A retreat can take prayer and meditation to the next level with extended time, a change of scenery, and structure and added disciplines such as yoga to focus energy.

"Lady of Protection" by Tanya Torres

NO. 83 Sanctuary

Cover art: "Primordial Slumber"

From the artist: "Primordial Slumber" was inspired by a visit to an old growth forest on the Oregon coast. When my companion responded to her inner urge to curl up beneath this cavernous tree, I was immediately struck by feeling that the pose perfectly described my own response to this forest. These natural sanctuaries feel both familiar and sacred because they touch what must be an ancestral memory. To see more of my work, please visit www.dreambirdart.com.

FEATURES (CONT.)

27 A PLACE FOR DEER by Jennifer McCall
I put a hand out toward her, and she didn't flinch. I walked forward, and she didn't move. Fifteen feet; a few steps more, and only ten feet remained between bare feet and hooves. Her eyes never left mine.

JO THE RED TENT REVIVAL by Lee Walker Warren It all started with The Red Tent, a novel by Anita Diamant. The title of the book refers to the actual tent in which women would seek comfort and refuge while on their menstrual cycle and while giving birth. For many of us, the book was a touching story about a time long gone. But for others, it inspired a movement.

The Case for the Courtesan Novel Sub-Genre: Counter-Intertextuality in de Chabrillan, de la Bigne, and de Poug Courtney A. Sullivan	y
This essay makes the case for a courtesan novel, a sub-ge fiction by renowned demi-mondaines in France from the Second I the Belle Époque, who challenged in their novels Alexandre Dur of Marguerite in his La Dame aux camélias (1848), claiming the not only promotes unrealistic stereotypes of courtesans, but also After defining the characteristics of the genre, this essay exact Céleste de Chabrillan, who famously privileged the courtesan's cown alienation in her autobiographical Adieux au monde (1854) a la Sapho , inspired Louise ("Valtesse") de la Bigne (who wrote as up her pen to write courtesan fiction just as her protegée Liane d	enre of popular Empire through mas's portrayal at this work do harmful ones. mines the way response to her and her fictional s "Ego") to also and to refute the stereotypes of the courtesan as a venal and heartless creature.

The exceptionally beautiful Judith Gautier (1845-1917), daughter of Théophile Gautier and Italian opera diva Ernesta Grisi, was raised in the epicenter of Europe's literary and artistic avant-garde. Among the weekly visitors to her parents' home were Flaubert, Baudelaire, Delacroix, Dumas, Taine, Mallarmé, Puivis de Chavannes, and the Goncourt brothers. She became a best-selling novelist, an early champion of Richard Wagner, a successful journalist, musicologist and art critic, a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor, and the first woman elected to the prestigious Goncourt Academy. She was instrumental in introducing Europeans to both Chinese and Japanese poetry. Yet, despite these fascinating and remarkable achievements, critical studies devoted to her are limited to a handful of articles. I attempt to correct this oversight by examining the prominent place accorded to gore, gruesomeness, and the macabre in her works. In so doing, I hope to show how these texts, through their deft handling of traditionally "masculine" subject matter, not only provided an entrée to the rarefied, male-dominated world of nineteenth-century French letters, but also articulated a unique theory of the novel—one that sees fiction writing above all as the expression of the violence inherent to and existing inside representation itself.

Revisiting Isabelle Eberhardt's Lettres et Journaliers

Marlène Barsoum ......41

Isabelle Eberhardt is considered the first Maghrebian writer of French expression (Edmonde Charles-Roux), not only because she traveled in the Maghreb and wrote in French, but rather because she had adopted the Maghreb as her permanent home, embraced its culture, and was an outspoken critic of colonization. Eberhardt traveled extensively in North Africa, at the turn of the twentieth century, and related her experiences in Lettres et Journaliers. This article examines how Eberhardt represents notions of trespass and the creation of the Other in relation to the colonial project. It also invites the reader to reconsider her life and writing from a contemporary perspective by viewing her travel narrative as a memoir of exile and dislocation and by framing the traveler in the context of a cosmopolitan discourse.

Alcestes and Her Sisters: Feminism, Sorority and Tragedy in Yourcenar and Simone's Alcestes

Keith A. Poniewaz ......56

This article examines the uses of tragedy for exploring the position of women in two adaptations of the Alcestes myth. The article begins with an analysis of Simone de Beauvoir's use of tragedy (particularly in Le deuxième sexe), and contextualizes her thinking on the tragic within her contemporaries' analyses of tragedy and tragic myths. This analysis provides the background for interpretations of plays by Madame Simone (Pauline Porché) and Marguerite Yourcenar. Reading Simone and Yourcenar's Alcestes adaptations in terms of the reception history of the tragic heroine, the paper shows that these plays explore notions of sorority and female agency in tragic myth to suggest a new pre-history for understanding the complex and under-theorized relationships between tragedy and French feminism.

« Vite elle se referme » : L'opacité dans Le Livre d'Emma de Marie-Célie Agnant

Le Livre d'Emma (2001) de Marie-Célie Agnant soutient et développe la notion de l'opacité d'Édouard Glissant. Pour ce dernier, l'opacité sert à déjouer la réduction à l'uniformité de l'Autre qui fait partie des efforts occidentaux de comprendre l'Autre. L'idéal glissantien d'une coexistence des opacités nécessite l'acceptation de l'Autre sans le réduire aux normes imposées par une culture donnée. La protagoniste du roman d'Agnant, Emma Bratte, une Haïtienne hantée par les horreurs de la traite, nous suggère que cet idéal des opacités puisse être un modèle pour un monde véritablement postcolonial. Or, le roman approfondit cette notion en montrant qu'il faut être l'auteur de sa propre opacité, qu'un désir de se faire comprendre limite l'efficacité de l'opacité d'une façon qui est parfois utile, et, enfin, que le passé et le présent, même s'ils sont opaques l'un vis-à-vis de l'autre, doivent coexister si l'on espère dépasser les horreurs et les effets continus du passé colonial.

Cet article examine comment le « photojournal », qu'Annie Ernaux a choisi de faire figurer en tête de son recueil Écrire la vie (2011), a complexifié l'usage de la photo que l'écrivaine a fait dans son œuvre. Un dialogue s'établit en effet entre ces photos (visuelles) et les photos en prose déjà « connotées » — pour reprendre le terme de Barthes — dans d'autres textes. Avec le photojournal, Ernaux élargit son écriture autobiographique et représente le « Temps écrasé » barthésien. Puisqu'elle considère cette entreprise « phototextuelle » comme « [u]ne façon d'ouvrir un espace autobiographique différent » (Écrire 8), nous offrons, pour la qualifier, le terme de ph-auto-bio-graphie pour lequel nous proposons en outre un pacte de lecture. Si photographie et autobiographie se marient ici comme dans la « photobiographie » de Gilles Mora, la ph-auto-biographie diffère de celle-ci dans la mesure où la pratique ernalienne a une visée et une portée universelles. Il s'agit bien par les photos d'écrire la vie, et non juste sa vie.

ENTRETIEN

Entretien	avec	Yamina	Benguigui.	Retour	sur	Mémoires	d'immigrés:
l'héritage	maghr	ébin.					0

Dans cette entrevue qui a eu lieu le 2 septembre, 2010 à Suresnes, France, la réalisatrice franco-algérienne, Yamina Benguigui parle de sa carrière, ses films, et la lutte contre la discrimination en France. Sorti en 1997, son premier film Mémoires d'immigrés: l'héritage maghrébin est le premier documentaire à traiter du sujet de l'immigration maghrébine en France. En particulier Benguigui discute la réception du film en France et dans le monde entier, aussi bien que le rôle du cinéma engagé créé par des femmes arabo-musulmanes dans la période postcoloniale.

- 1. "Aspasia is an international peer-reviewed yearbook that brings out the best scholarsip in the field of interdisciplinary women's and gender history focused on—and produced in—Central, Eastern, and Southeastern Europe. This region includes such countries as Albania, Belarus, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, the Czech Republic, Estonia, Greece, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Macedonia, Moldova, Montenegro, Poland, Romania, Russia, Serbia, Slovakia, Slovenia, Turkey, and Ukraine. In these countries the field of women's and gender history has developed unevenly and has remained only marginally represented in the "international" canon. Through its contributions, Aspasia transforms "European women's history" into more than Western European women's history, as is still often the case, and expands the comparative angle of research on women and gender to all parts of Europe."

- 11. "Berkeley Journal of Gender, Law & Justice, a continuation of the Berkeley Women's Law Journal, is guided by an editorial policy which distinguishes us from other law reviews and feminist journals. Our mandate is to publish research, analysis, narrative, theory, and commentary that address the lives and struggles of underrepresented women. We believe that excellence in feminist legal scholarship requires critical examination of the intersection of gender with one or more other axes of subordination, including, but not limited to, race, class, sexual orientation, and disability. Therefore discussions that treat women as a monolithic group do not fall within our mandate. Because conditions of inequality are continually changing, our mandate is continually evolving."

Both national and international in focus, JGL is intended to serve as a forum for topics inadequately addressed in most law journals and reviews, including issues concerning women, children, family, sexuality, reproductive rights, and violence. The articles in JGL approach legal issues from a variety of disciplines. We aim to promote an expansive view of feminism embracing women and men of all colors, classes, sexual orientations, and cultures."

"Early Modern Women: An Interdisciplinary Journal (EMWJ) is the only peer-reviewed academic journal devoted to the interdisciplinary and global study of women and gender during the years 1400 to 1700. Each issue of this annual journal reflects the energies of this rapidly growing field by publishing essays, art exhibition and book reviews, bibliographies, and a forum on a current topic of interest to the study of early modern women. Essays may consider women and gender from any region of the globe and may develop a number of scholarly perspectives, including but not limited to art history, cultural studies, history, history of philosophy, history of science, literature, music, politics, religion, or theater. Approaches that challenge current assumptions and cross disciplinary boundaries are especially welcome."

   "Feminist Studies was founded to encourage analytic
- responses to feminist issues and to open new areas of research, criticism and speculation. The editors are committed to providing a forum for feminist analysis, debate, and exchange. The feminist movement has demonstrated that the study of women is more than a compensatory project. Instead, feminism has the potential fundamentally to reshape the way we view the world. We wish not just to interpret women's experiences but to change women's condition. For us, feminist thought represents a transformation of consciousness, social forms, and modes of action."

"Femspec, a peer-reviewed journal, is interested in developing a community of like-minded people engaged in speculating, theorizing, creating and questioning gender across the boundaries, including issues of sexual orientation. We emphasize interdisciplinary approaches, and encourage work on teaching as well as literary and cultural criticism and creative material. We hope an approach to pedagogy will bring in work from a wider area of disciplines. We are interested in a variety of feminisms and aim to be inclusive of ethnic and cultural diversity in an internationalist perspective. We are also committed to publishing feminist experimental prose and poetic works, and to experimenting across media. Our impetus came from the collectively-perceived lack of attention to non-linear writing, sf, fantasy, magical realism and supernatural works in feminist journals and audiences; the lack of consistently evolving developed levels of feminism in sf criticism; and the inadequacy of magical realism publishing outlets in the U.S."

It is an international forum for research on and debates about feminist research on gender and language. Gender is defined broadly, as a key element of social relationships often loosely linked to perceived differences between the sexes as well as a primary arena for articulating power in complex interaction with other dimensions of power, like class, race, and sexuality. It welcomes research employing and investigating a range of different linguistic approaches (including, but not only including, conversation analysis, critical discourse analysis, ethnography of communication, interactional sociolinguistics, linguistic anthropology, variationist sociolinguistics, stylistics and pragmatics) which focus on a range of different linguistic phenomena."

Since its inception in 1986 as an independent journal, Hypatia has been both a catalyst for broadening and refining feminist philosophy, and an invaluable resource for those who teach in this area. Feminist philosophy arises out of diverse traditions and methods within philosophy, and is also richly interdisciplinary in orientation; we are committed to publishing articles that are broadly accessible. Hypatia serves as a resource for the wider women's studies community, for philosophers generally, and for all those interested in philosophical issues raised by feminism."

"International Journal of Gender, Science and Technology (GST) is an open access, peer reviewed journal that welcomes contributions from practitioners. researchers and policy makers concerned with gender issues in and of science and technology, including engineering, construction and the built environment. Research in these areas is of interest not only to academics, but also to employers and educators involved in these sectors. We welcome contributions from a variety of disciplines and interdisciplinary perspectives and drawing on a wide range of theoretical frameworks. Our aim is to help foster and provide a focus for constructive debate and interchange of ideas between key players and experts in this field—promoting the sharing of knowledge and new understandings. GST enables those outside of academic institutions to have access to research data and results to inform strategies, responses and progress. Academic researchers will benefit from access to case studies and reports developed by practitioners and policy makers."

- 11. "The Journal of Feminist Scholarship is a peer-reviewed, open-access journal published online and aimed at promoting feminist scholarship across the disciplines, as well as expanding the reach and definitions of feminist research. We conceive the mission of the JFS as an exploration of the state of feminist scholarship at the turn of the new century, and we see this endeavor as part of a larger question of where feminism itself is heading. We wish to encourage a discussion of feminist thought for the twenty-first century. What are its directions today, and what relationship does it sustain with the foundations laid down by feminist inquiry and action of earlier centuries? We aim to publish work that explores the multiple theoretical paradigms and political agendas of contemporary and historical feminist scholarship and the potential intersections and tensions between these paradigms and agendas. We are especially interested in examining productive controversies and divergences between local and global contexts of feminism. We also welcome submissions that focus on feminist pedagogies and activism."

- 1534 Campus Dr., Berkeley, CA 94708 [email: editor@persimmontree.org].
- 11. "Persimmon Tree showcases an impressive variety of literature and art by women over 60, many still working well into their 80s and 90s. Many of the writers and artists are well-known: Marilyn French, Ruth Stone, Grace Paley, E. M. Broner, Paula Gunn Allen, Jane Lazarre, Faith Ringgold, and Nicole Hollander. Others are lesser known, while some are newly developing their craft in their later years. All of them are at the height of their creative powers, and all of them express the shared, though diverse experiences of aging women, from late middle age to late old age. Persimmon Tree is intended to fill a niche that has been neglected by contemporary publishing, whether in print or online. There is a growing body of work by male writers and artists who are entering or well into old age. But the comparable body of work by aging women in much smaller and mostly limited to a few already well-known writers and artists. Women are creating, but they are not getting the exposure they deserve."

The aim of Reproductive Health Matters is "to promote laws, policies, research and services that meet women's reproductive health needs and support women's right to decide whether, when and how to have children. . . . [its] women-centered perspective. . . . allows us to identify and understand women's reproductive health needs, and therefore evaluate and improve on existing policy and practice to women's benefit. . . . To this end, the journal explores what is meant by women's needs and how these can best be met. It addresses fundamental values, concerns and dilemmas, acknowledging the multi-faceted nature of problems and solutions. Finally, it reflects on commonalities and differences in goals and points of view among those involved in the field - in order to foster increased communication and cooperation, new thinking and action, and new forms of consensus."

- Gay & Lesbian Abstracts, Sociological Abstracts, Studies on Women & Gender Abstracts.
- EBSCO (various products), Ingenta, Ovid Psychinfo, Swetswise.
- "Studies in Gender and Sexuality is a response to the excitement attendant to recent research and writing by scholars and clinicians. It provides a forum for examining gender and sexuality that is both multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary. As clinicians and scholars who have written and practiced at the intersection of feminist theory and clinical psychoanalysis, the editors are especially interested in those areas of controversy that invite the divergent perspectives and insights of different disciplines. Early issues of SGS focus on transgender identities and intersexuality; contemporary readings of the category of perversion; puberty and adolescence revised and revisited; and the intersections among class, race, and gender in theory, culture, and the clinical situation. The primary goal of SGS is to promote dialogue on these and other timely topics among clinicians, researchers, and theorists. Consonant with this goal, the journal also publishes related work from the humanities. social sciences, and natural sciences, where questions involving gender and sexuality are currently in lively debate.'

- 11. "TRIVIA, deriving from 'tri-via' (crossroads), was one of the names of the Triple Goddess. Recognizing that what is of primary importance in women's lives tends to be relegated to the margins of patriarchal history and thought, dismissed as 'trivial,' we conceive TRIVIA: Voices of Feminism as a place at the crossroads where women's ideas can assume their original power and significance. We operate with (and within) an expansive definition of feminism, one that recognizes diversity of thought and practice across boundaries and borders of all kinds."

- 8. OCLC 76805476.
- 9. EBSCO (various products).
- 11. "The purpose of the journal is to encourage and promote an understanding of how visual culture constructs gender in context with representations of race, age, sexuality, social units, and social class. The significance of visual culture for art education rests not so much in the object or image, but in the learning and teaching processes or practices used to expose culturally learned meanings and power relations that surround the creation, consumption, valuing, and dissemination of images. Similarly, the significance of gender for art education involves issues of equity and social justice in the learning, teaching, and practicing of art."
