Feminist Periodicals

A Current Listing of Contents

Volume 34, Number 3 (Summer 2014)

Periodical literature is the cutting edge of women's scholarship, feminist theory, and much of women's culture. Feminist Periodicals: A Current Listing of Contents is published by the Office of the University of Wisconsin System Women's Studies Librarian on a quarterly basis with the intent of increasing public awareness of feminist periodicals. It is our hope that Feminist Periodicals will serve several purposes: to keep the reader abreast of current topics in feminist literature; to increase readers' familiarity with a wide spectrum of feminist periodicals; and to provide the requisite bibliographic information should a reader wish to subscribe to a journal or to obtain a particular article at her library or through interlibrary loan. (Users will need to be aware of the limitations of copyright law with regard to photocopying of copyrighted materials.)

Table of contents pages from current issues of major feminist journals are reproduced in each issue of Feminist Periodicals, followed by a comprehensive annotated listing of all journals we have selected. As publication schedules vary enormously, not every periodical will have table of contents pages reproduced in each issue of FP. The annotated listing provides the following information on each journal:

- 1. Year of first publication.
- 2. Frequency of publication.
- 3. Subscription prices (print only; for online prices, consult publisher).
- 4. Subscription address.
- 5. Current editor.
- 6. Editorial address (if different from subscription address).
- 7. International Standard Serials Number (ISSN).
- 8. OCLC, Inc. Control Number.
- 9. Selected publications in which the journal is indexed.
- 10. Selected fulltext products in which publication appears or vendor intermediaries who make the full text available.
- 11. Subject focus/statement of purpose of the journal.

Please note that in the actual text, only the numbers 1 to 11 are used to identify the different categories of information.

Our goal in Feminist Periodicals is to represent English-language periodicals from around the world that focus on gender, women's studies, or women's issues. Generally, we do not include mainstream newsstand magazines. We are also unable to include periodicals that lack a complete table of contents. We encourage feminist serials to build a full table of contents into their regular format to facilitate possible inclusion in FP and indexing elsewhere.

University of Wisconsin System users: To locate these periodicals within the UW System, do a UW System/Universal Borrowing search from your campus catalog (labeled variously "Other Libraries," "More Libraries," "Other Catalogs," "Other UW Catalogs," etc.) If information on actual holdings (volumes and issues) is not in the records retrieved, contact the Reference Department at the library of interest.

Suggestions for improvements of Feminist Periodicals are gratefully received. We would particularly appreciate assistance from readers in the UW System with our efforts to keep the holding information complete and up to date. Please let us know about new subscriptions, subscriptions we have overlooked, cancellations, or other pertinent information.

Feminist Periodicals: A Current Listing of Contents (ISSN 1941-725X) is published online, quarterly, by Karla J. Strand, UW System Gender & Women's Studies Librarian, 430 Memorial Library, 728 State Street, Madison, WI 53706. Phone (608) 263-5754.

ARE EMOTICONS A WOMAN THING? ..... 16

Research suggests that women use emoticons twice as often as men. Does their use promote stereotypes about women as obsessed with feelings and too approvalseeking, or are the signs being misread?

by Katie Bickell

DIVERSITY ISN'T ENOUGH FOR TRANS INCLUSION.. 21

Trans theorist Julia Serano believes "diversity" is a limiting word that focuses too much on how people look and not enough on how they think. In her newest book, Excluded: Making Feminist and Queer Movements More Inclusive, the American writer argues that "gender policing" and "sexuality shaming" in the feminist and queer movements have created double standards and hierarchies that prevent these movements from being truly trans-inclusive.

WORDS WILL BREAK CEMENT:

by Mandy Van Deven

Freed from prison just before the Sochi Winter Games, Pussy Riot members Nadya Tolokonnikova and Maria Alyokhina vowed to continue their protest, along with others, against the unbridled power of Russian President Vladimir Putin. This excerpt from the book Words Will Break Cement: The Passion of Pussy Riot introduces the group's origins and feminist philosophy. by Masha Gessen

IMPROVING THE ODDS FOR WOMEN GAMBLERS $\dots 28$

The factors that lead to women become hooked on gaming are often quite different from those experienced by men who are problem gamblers. Lethbridge University researchers suggests that the needs of women need to be taken into account when creating programs to treat their gambling addictions.

MAKING BLACK BEAUTY PRODUCTS SAFER ..... 20

In the late 1960s, the Black is Beautiful movement repositioned natural hair—Afros and cornrows—into signifiers for racial solidarity. But the trend waned and today, many people use hair relaxers and other products to make fashion statements. Many of those products are not fully regulated.

Cover photo by Sophia Williams of Sophia's Special Deliveries (sophiabirth.com). Sophia has been a doula since 2009 and is on a journey to becoming a homebirth midwife. She lives and photographs families in Sonoma County, California. She first learned about doulas and midwives when she was a nanny for a family who had a homebirth. That experience changed her life, and she has never looked back.

FEATURED ARTICLES

6 BELOVED: WALKING WITH PLANTS IN THE CELTIC TRADITION Sharon Paice MacLeod

My grandmothers selected and mixed their herbs, reciting charms in Irish or Scottish Gaelic all the while. Each plant that grew locally was a friend and ally. What a remarkable gift from the earth these herbs are, spread upon the landscape and sitting quietly in glens and rocky crevices, holding within them all of this knowledge and power.

IO SEDUCED BY THE GREENWOOD: My JOURNEY INTO HERBALISM Ellen Evert Hopman

Suddenly I heard a stentorian voice, coming from inside and outside of my body all at once. It said, "You are supposed to be working with plants."

I3 A Passion for Plants: Herbalism in Community Sage Kohoutek

Since moving to these vast hills in southern Missouri, these wild woods, sweet gardens, and diverse group of people have taught me so much about myself and the art of working with medicinal plants.

16 Luminous: Using Moon-Centered Herbalism To Enchant and Heal Alexis J. Cunningfolk

My journey as a Witch and a herbalist has been anchored to the course of the Moon's orbit around our sacred ocean planet. Some of my earliest attempts at magickal herbology were creating herbal teas to connect with the pull of the Full Moon.

2I Blue Vervain: Opening Heart to Spirit Ann Spanel

When I first met Blue Vervain in the wild she was growing near a reservoir on a sunny slope next to her three sisters: Artemisia, Queen Anne's lace, and Burdock. I felt I was in her cathedral, the little slope holy because of her presence. Her beauty — spires of bright purple florets and graceful dark leaves — was quiet but unforgettable.

"AIRMID: GODDESS OF HERBS"
BY JOANNA POWELL COLBERT

24 Fierce Mother: the Brave Heart of Lady Hawthorn Darcey Blue French

Although this was my first encounter with Lady Hawthorn, it was far from my last. This fierce, Fae Goddess-tree is one of the most potent healers acknowledged by western herbalism.

28 Asana of the Jupiter Rebecca Bailey

I was drawn to the Utah juniper, one of only two tree species that can live in this land of little rain. Their limbs are twisted and gnarled into poses so graceful they could be the silent steps of an unmoving dance.

3I A Sisterhood of Healers: The Magical World of Women's Herbal Conferences Loba

One of the most delightful ways to learn a great deal about herbalism from a number of different teachers is to attend herbal education events. Such events are chances for us to gather together with other like-minded and like-hearted people, unite with old friends and allies, engage in ceremony, and build real and lasting community.

  "Aspasia is an international peer-reviewed yearbook that brings out the best scholarsip in the field of interdisciplinary women's and gender history focused on—and produced in—Central, Eastern, and Southeastern Europe. This region includes such countries as Albania, Belarus, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, the Czech Republic, Estonia, Greece, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Macedonia, Moldova, Montenegro, Poland, Romania, Russia, Serbia, Slovakia, Slovenia, Turkey, and Ukraine. In these countries the field of women's and gender history has developed unevenly and has remained only marginally represented in the "international" canon. Through its contributions, Aspasia transforms "European women's history" into more than Western European women's history, as is still often the case, and expands the comparative angle of research on women and gender to all parts of Europe."

"Berkeley Journal of Gender, Law & Justice, a continuation of the Berkeley Women's Law Journal, is guided by an editorial policy which distinguishes us from other law reviews and feminist journals. Our mandate is to publish research, analysis, narrative, theory, and commentary that address the lives and struggles of underrepresented women. We believe that excellence in feminist legal scholarship requires critical examination of the intersection of gender with one or more other axes of subordination, including, but not limited to, race, class, sexual orientation, and disability. Therefore discussions that treat women as a monolithic group do not fall within our mandate. Because conditions of inequality are continually changing, our mandate is continually evolving."

"Early Modern Women: An Interdisciplinary Journal (EMWJ) is the only peer-reviewed academic journal devoted to the interdisciplinary and global study of women and gender during the years 1400 to 1700. Each issue of this annual journal reflects the energies of this rapidly growing field by publishing essays, art exhibition and book reviews, bibliographies, and a forum on a current topic of interest to the study of early modern women. Essays may consider women and gender from any region of the globe and may develop a number of scholarly perspectives, including but not limited to art history, cultural studies, history, history of philosophy, history of science, literature, music, politics, religion, or theater. Approaches that challenge current assumptions and cross disciplinary boundaries are especially welcome."

The editors are committed to providing a forum for feminist analysis, debate, and exchange. The feminist movement has demonstrated that the study of women is more than a compensatory project. Instead, feminism has the potential fundamentally to reshape the way we view the world. We wish not just to interpret women's experiences but to change women's condition. For us, feminist thought represents a transformation of consciousness, social forms, and modes of action."

- "Femspec, a peer-reviewed journal, is interested in developing a community of like-minded people engaged in speculating, theorizing, creating and questioning gender across the boundaries, including issues of sexual orientation. We emphasize interdisciplinary approaches, and encourage work on teaching as well as literary and cultural criticism and creative material. We hope an approach to pedagogy will bring in work from a wider area of disciplines. We are interested in a variety of feminisms and aim to be inclusive of ethnic and cultural diversity in an internationalist perspective. We are also committed to publishing feminist experimental prose and poetic works, and to experimenting across media. Our impetus came from the collectively-perceived lack of attention to non-linear writing, sf, fantasy, magical realism and supernatural works in feminist journals and audiences; the lack of consistently evolving developed levels of feminism in sf criticism; and the inadequacy of magical realism publishing outlets in the U.S."

It is an international forum for research on and debates about feminist research on gender and language. Gender is defined broadly, as a key element of social relationships often loosely linked to perceived differences between the sexes as well as a primary arena for articulating power in complex interaction with other dimensions of power, like class, race, and sexuality. It welcomes research employing and investigating a range of different linguistic approaches (including, but not only including, conversation analysis, critical discourse analysis, ethnography of communication, interactional sociolinguistics, linguistic anthropology, variationist sociolinguistics, stylistics and pragmatics) which focus on a range of different linguistic phenomena."

  [It] reviews current writing by women, mainly in Australia: fiction, poetry, history, health, sexuality, social and cultural issues, children's and adolescent fiction. AWBR aims to provide women throughout Australia, urban and rural, outside and within the universities, with current information on small-press publications and books that might otherwise not form part of mainstream reviewing. In addition, it brings feminist perspectives to the reviewing of more mainstream publications."

"International Journal of Gender, Science and Technology (GST) is an open access, peer reviewed journal that welcomes contributions from practitioners, researchers and policy makers concerned with gender issues in and of science and technology, including engineering, construction and the built environment. Research in these areas is of interest not only to academics, but also to employers and educators involved in these sectors. We welcome contributions from a variety of disciplines and interdisciplinary perspectives and drawing on a wide range of theoretical frameworks. Our aim is to help foster and provide a focus for constructive debate and interchange of ideas between key players and experts in this field—promoting the sharing of knowledge and new understandings. GST enables those outside of academic institutions to have access to research data and results to inform strategies, responses and progress. Academic researchers will benefit from access to case studies and reports developed by practitioners and policy makers."

- 8. OCLC 682689412.
- "The Journal of Feminist Scholarship is a peer-reviewed, open-access journal published online and aimed at promoting feminist scholarship across the disciplines, as well as expanding the reach and definitions of feminist research. We conceive the mission of the JFS as an exploration of the state of feminist scholarship at the turn of the new century, and we see this endeavor as part of a larger question of where feminism itself is heading. We wish to encourage a discussion of feminist thought for the twenty-first century. What are its directions today, and what relationship does it sustain with the foundations laid down by feminist inquiry and action of earlier centuries? We aim to publish work that explores the multiple theoretical paradigms and political agendas of contemporary and historical feminist scholarship and the potential intersections and tensions between these paradigms and agendas. We are especially interested in examining productive controversies and divergences between local and global contexts of feminism. We also welcome submissions that focus on feminist pedagogies and activism."

- 5. Sue Leonard.
- 1534 Campus Dr., Berkeley, CA 94708 [email: editor@persimmontree.org].
- "Persimmon Tree showcases an impressive variety of literature and art by women over 60, many still working well into their 80s and 90s. Many of the writers and artists are well-known: Marilyn French, Ruth Stone, Grace Paley, E. M. Broner, Paula Gunn Allen, Jane Lazarre, Faith Ringgold, and Nicole Hollander. Others are lesser known, while some are newly developing their craft in their later years. All of them are at the height of their creative powers, and all of them express the shared. though diverse experiences of aging women, from late middle age to late old age. Persimmon Tree is intended to fill a niche that has been neglected by contemporary publishing, whether in print or online. There is a growing body of work by male writers and artists who are entering or well into old age. But the comparable body of work by aging women in much smaller and mostly limited to a few already well-known writers and artists. Women are creating, but they are not getting the exposure they deserve."

[its] women-centered perspective. . . . allows us to identify and understand women's reproductive health needs, and therefore evaluate and improve on existing policy and practice to women's benefit. . . . To this end, the journal explores what is meant by women's needs and how these can best be met. It addresses fundamental values. concerns and dilemmas, acknowledging the multi-faceted nature of problems and solutions. Finally, it reflects on commonalities and differences in goals and points of view among those involved in the field - in order to foster increased communication and cooperation, new thinking and action, and new forms of consensus."

- EBSCO (various products), Ingenta, Ovid Psychinfo, Swetswise.
- 11. "Studies in Gender and Sexuality is a response to the excitement attendant to recent research and writing by scholars and clinicians. It provides a forum for examining gender and sexuality that is both multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary. As clinicians and scholars who have written and practiced at the intersection of feminist theory and clinical psychoanalysis, the editors are especially interested in those areas of controversy that invite the divergent perspectives and insights of different disciplines. Early issues of SGS focus on transgender identities and intersexuality; contemporary readings of the category of perversion; puberty and adolescence revised and revisited; and the intersections among class, race, and gender in theory, culture, and the clinical situation. The primary goal of SGS is to promote dialogue on these and other timely topics among clinicians, researchers, and theorists. Consonant with this goal, the journal also publishes related work from the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences, where questions involving gender and sexuality are currently in lively debate."

- 11. "TRIVIA, deriving from 'tri-via' (crossroads), was one of the names of the Triple Goddess. Recognizing that what is of primary importance in women's lives tends to be relegated to the margins of patriarchal history and thought, dismissed as 'trivial,' we conceive TRIVIA: Voices of Feminism as a place at the crossroads where women's ideas can assume their original power and significance. We operate with (and within) an expansive definition of feminism, one that recognizes diversity of thought and practice across boundaries and borders of all kinds."

- 9. EBSCO (various products).
- 11. "The purpose of the journal is to encourage and promote an understanding of how visual culture constructs gender in context with representations of race, age, sexuality, social units, and social class. The significance of visual culture for art education rests not so much in the object or image, but in the learning and teaching processes or practices used to expose culturally learned meanings and power relations that surround the creation, consumption, valuing, and dissemination of images. Similarly, the significance of gender for art education involves issues of equity and social justice in the learning, teaching, and practicing of art."

  "Women & Language is an interdisciplinary research periodical and newsletter, associated with the Organization for the Study of Communication Language and Gender, which seeks to provide a feminist forum for those interested in communication, language and gender. It raises questions on the construction of gender and the interconnections among sex, gender, race, class, and heterosexual hegemony with regard to symbolic communications and the impacts of masculinist communication paradigms. Women & Language welcomes completed research, essays, personal narratives, poetry, as well as work in progress and information sharing on conferences, publications, and so on. It includes contributions from all disciplines, and particularly looks for interdisciplinary work."

The journal is devoted to descriptive, theoretical, clinical, empirical, and multicultural perspectives on the topic of women and therapy. Women comprise the overwhelming majority of clients in therapy. Yet there has been little emphasis on this area in the training of therapists or in the professional literature. Women & Therapy is designed to fill this void of information."
