Biology

The Effect of Berberine on Escherichia coli and Its Metabolites Using Kirby Bauer and Tissue Culture Methods
Elise Lamont .................................................................................................................. 1

Environmental Studies

Decreasing the Demand on Forests of the World: Alternative Building Possibilities in Wisconsin
Jessica Brandt .................................................................................................................. 14

History

Patterns and Missing Pieces in Reconstruction History: A Look at Twenty American High School Textbooks
Trudy Fredericks ................................................................................................................ 29

Mathematics

From Special Relativity to Gyrogroups
Vivian Eichmueller ......................................................................................................... 56

A Family of Correctors
Jayson Saumer ................................................................................................................ 83

Psychology

Tryptophan in Daily Diets and Residents’ Mood States at Bayshore Health Center, Alzheimer’s Unit
Maja Radulović ............................................................................................................... 105
Social Work

Youth Services of Post-War Bosnia: A Needs Assessment
Bethany Wilfert

Sociology

Wilding and School Violence: Past and Present Trends
Kenneth Pearson