FEMINIST PERIODICALS
A CURRENT LISTING OF CONTENTS

Volume 37
Number 2
Spring 2017

University of Wisconsin System
Periodical literature is the cutting edge of women’s scholarship, feminist theory, and much of women’s culture. Feminist Periodicals: A Current Listing of Contents is published by the Office of the University of Wisconsin System Gender & Women’s Studies Librarian on a quarterly basis with the intent of increasing public visibility of feminist periodicals. It is our hope that Feminist Periodicals will serve several purposes: to keep the reader abreast of current topics in feminist literature; to increase readers’ familiarity with a wide spectrum of feminist periodicals; and to provide the requisite bibliographic information should a reader wish to subscribe to a journal or to obtain a particular article at her library or through interlibrary loan.

Users will need to be aware of the limitations of copyright law with regard to photocopying of copyrighted materials.

Table of contents pages from current issues of major feminist journals are reproduced in each issue of Feminist Periodicals, followed by a comprehensive annotated listing of all journals we have selected. As publication schedules vary enormously, not every periodical will have table of contents pages reproduced in each issue of FP. The annotated listing provides the following information on each journal:

1. Year of first publication.
2. Frequency of publication.
3. Subscription prices (print only; for online prices, consult publisher).
4. Subscription address.
6. Editorial address (if different from subscription address).
8. OCLC, Inc. Control Number.
9. Selected publications in which the journal is indexed.
10. Selected fulltext products in which publication appears or vendor intermediaries who make the full text available.
11. Subject focus/statement of purpose of the journal.

Please note that in the actual text, only the numbers 1 to 11 are used to identify the different categories of information.
Our goal in Feminist Periodicals is to represent English-language periodicals from around the world that focus on gender, women's studies, or women's issues. Generally, we do not include mainstream newsstand magazines. We are also unable to include periodicals that lack a complete table of contents. We encourage feminist serials to build a full table of contents into their regular format to facilitate possible inclusion in FP and indexing elsewhere.

University of Wisconsin System users: To locate these periodicals within the UW System, do a UW System/Universal Borrowing search from your campus catalog (labeled variously “Other Libraries,” “More Libraries,” “Other Catalogs,” “Other UW Catalogs,” etc.) If information on actual holdings (volumes and issues) is not in the records retrieved, contact the Reference Department at the library of interest.

Suggestions for improvements of Feminist Periodicals are gratefully received. We would particularly appreciate assistance from readers in the UW System with our efforts to keep the holdings information complete and up to date. Please let us know about new subscriptions, subscriptions we have overlooked, cancellations, or other pertinent information.

Feminist Periodicals: A Current Listing of Contents (ISSN 1941-725X) is published online, quarterly, by Dr. Karla J. Strand, UW System Gender & Women’s Studies Librarian, 430 Memorial Library, 728 State Street, Madison, WI 53706. Phone: (608) 263-5754. Email: gwslibrarian@library.wisc.edu. Website: library.wisc.edu/gwslibrarian Compiler: Lachrista Greco, MA. Cover Design: Daniel Joe.

Feminist Periodicals is available free of charge at library.wisc.edu/gwslibrarian/publications/feminist-periodicals. A subscription to the periodical journals of the Gender & Women’s Studies Librarian includes our print publications Feminist Collections: A Quarterly of Women’s Studies Resources and New Books on Women, Gender, & Feminism, along with email notification of each new online issue of Feminist Periodicals. See subscription form here.

Back issues of Feminist Periodicals are archived online at https://minds.wisconsin.edu/handle/1793/259.

WATER WISDOM ................................................................. 16

Time to Heal Maude Barlow’s Clarion Call

Water is a feminist issue. It is not only the source of life on planet Earth, it is also an environmental-justice and Indigenous issue, as more than 70 First Nations live with permanent boil-water advisories in Canada. No one knows water like Maude Barlow, whose book Boiling Point is sounding the alarm bell on this urgent issue.

MARCHING TOWARDS EQUALITY ...................................................... 21

Since its first female recruits graduated in 1975, the RCMP has been rife with sexual harassment, bullying and discrimination against women. Bonnie Reilly Schmidt has written an account of the national police force’s ongoing resistance to accepting women as equals and its shameful history of sexual harassment.

by Barbara Janusz

NEVER LOOK AWAY ................................................................. 24

Katherena Vermette’s novel The Break is a monumental thriller that takes place in Winnipeg’s North End. Not since Beatrice Culleton Misonier’s In Search of April Raintree has Canadian fiction had such fully rendered female Indigenous characters.

Growing Up Cooking
by Susan Barcas
Preparring food for her family from age 7, the Obama’s’s seder chef could have rebelled. Instead, Barcas chose to love kitchen tasks and traditions—Sephardi and Ashkenazi alike. Bonus: her W.H. haroset recipe!

Dr. Ruth, at 89, Still Has the Answers
by Susan Wildman Schneider; photos by Joan Roth
How can sex be better in the morning? Why stick your neck out? What’s the secret appeal of dollhouses? Just ask.

Giving Away Grief
by Judy Labowsky
For so many who’ve had a sibling die young, memories stifled by the family’s silence never get released.

Wise Women Won’t Go Back
by Amy Stone with Amalia Dornbush
After the Women’s Marches that followed the Trump inauguration, Lilith asked 12 battle-tested feminists: What do we do now?

Rape & Recovery
Karyn Freedman talks to Judy Gersel
“I wrote about my own violent rape in defiance against victim-blaming.” Freedman’s memoir, One Hour in Paris: A Story of Rape and Recovery, has Canada confronting sexual violence.

MS. SPECIAL: WOMEN’S MARCH

6 Feet on the Ground. Not Backing Down!
On Donald Trump’s first day in office, women delivered a huge message—too massive to ignore.

Why I Marched
Ms. celebrates the power of that day through the stories and thoughts of our many readers and community members who were—in body or in spirit—at every Sister March.

28 She Runs, We Win
By RONNIE SCHREIBER
Women are entering politics in record numbers, fueled by Hillary Clinton’s stunning loss. Here’s how organizations like EMERGE America, Ready to Run and EMILY’s List will turn this surge of interest into real numbers of women in office.

L.A. Women Lead the Way
By NANCY L. COHEN AND JENNIFER M. PISCOPO
The female supermajority on Los Angeles County’s governing board proves why women in politics matters.
Figen Yetiğin says her murdered daughter is watching over her, and while she couldn’t save her own child, she’s found empowerment in fighting for other vulnerable Turkish women.

FEATURES

34 Turkish Women Rising
BY SOPHIA JONES AND CHRISTINA ASQUITH
Turkey is descending into increasingly authoritarian and Islamist rule, but one group of activists refuses to keep quiet, catapulting the fight for women’s rights into the spotlight.

38 A Sustainable Solution
BY JUHIE BHATIA
As communities worldwide wake up to the reality of climate change and our related dependence on fossil fuels, women-led groups across the U.S. are helping grow a sustainable grassroots movement advancing renewable energy as one solution.

6  AWAY WITH THE FAERIES  Mary Petiet
   My grandmother saw the faeries, and lived to tell the tale. She was riding her horse through the woods near her rural Pennsylvania home when she saw a flash of light, low near the ground.

10  WHY BELIEVE IN FAERIES?  Merideth Allyn
    Why the faeries? Why do I spend so much time researching and teaching others about them? Both then and now, the faeries have always been very real to me. PLUS A Journey to Fairyland.

15  PURSUED BY MUSIC  Suzanne d’Corsey
    Dusk was descending on an afternoon in late February on the small island of Iona, off Scotland’s west coast. A storm was building over the wild Atlantic, the setting sun shooting rays of gold through the rolling and crashing turquoise of the ocean, the wild grey of the clouds flashing across the sheen of the white sands.

19  THE GIFTS OF ANNWYN  Siobhain NicLeòid
    My path into the heart of my spiritual ancestry began early when I spent time with my Scottish grandmother from Aberdeen and my great-grandfather from Dundee (who my mother described as a “flower child.”)

24  A MATCH MADE IN FAERY  Jennifer Langsdale
    Lately, with all of my mid-thirties junk happening in my life — landlord disputes, parenthood, small business management, and lack of sleep — my fairy pool, so to say, is running a bit dry. But although it doesn’t seem very magical, they are as helpful to me now as ever.

27  BUTTERFLY WINGS  Winterswan
    The fairie garden is just a few steps from our kitchen door. Many mornings I sit on the garage step, sipping my first mug of coffee. Crows with iridescent wings call their shrill hellos; slender, long billed ibis pluck at insects in our back yard; and butterflies dance among the leaves and flowers of the bougainvillea that cover the wooden fence.

"Fly me to the Moon and let me play
among the stars…"

Transported by her winged companion, the moth maiden is drawn towards the ethereal light of the moon. Her flowing robes of rainbow colored moth wings fly out behind her as she is struck by the awesome beauty of the lunar landscape. One tiny speck in the wonder that is our universe, yet so powerful an influence on our precious planet.

11. “Aspasia is an international peer-reviewed yearbook that brings out the best scholarship in the field of interdisciplinary women’s and gender history focused on—and produced in—Central, Eastern, and Southeastern Europe. This region includes such countries as Albania, Belarus, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, the Czech Republic, Estonia, Greece, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Macedonia, Moldova, Montenegro, Poland, Romania, Russia, Serbia, Slovakia, United States, and Ukraine.”
Slovenia, Turkey, and Ukraine. In these countries the field of women’s and gender history has developed unevenly and has remained only marginally represented in the “international” canon. Through its contributions, Aspasia transforms “European women’s history” into more than Western European women’s history, as is still often the case, and expands the comparative angle of research on women and gender to all parts of Europe.

11. “Berkeley Journal of Gender, Law & Justice, a continuation of the Berkeley Women’s Law Journal, is guided by an editorial policy which distinguishes us from other law reviews and feminist journals. Our mandate is to publish research, analysis, narrative, theory, and commentary that address the lives and struggles of underrepresented women. We believe that excellence in feminist legal scholarship requires critical examination of the intersection of gender with one or more other axes of subordination, including, but not limited to, race, class, sexual orientation, and disability. Therefore discussions that treat women as a monolithic group do not fall within our mandate. Because conditions of inequality are continually changing, our mandate is continually evolving.”

(EMWJ) is the only peer-reviewed academic journal devoted to the interdisciplinary and global study of women and gender during the years 1400 to 1700. Each issue of this annual journal reflects the energies of this rapidly growing field by publishing essays, art exhibition and book reviews, bibliographies, and a forum on a current topic of interest to the study of early modern women. Essays may consider women and gender from any region of the globe and may develop a number of scholarly perspectives, including but not limited to art history, cultural studies, history, history of philosophy, history of science, literature, music, politics, religion, or theater. Approaches that challenge current assumptions and cross disciplinary boundaries are especially welcome."

11. “Feminist Studies” was founded to encourage analytic responses to feminist issues and to open new areas of research, criticism and speculation. The editors are committed to providing a forum for feminist analysis, debate, and exchange. The feminist movement has demonstrated that the study of women is more than a compensatory project. Instead, feminism has the potential fundamentally to reshape the way we view the world. We wish not just to interpret women’s experiences but to change women’s condition. For us, feminist thought represents a transformation of consciousness, social forms, and modes of action.

11. “Femspec, a peer-reviewed journal, is interested in developing a community of like-minded people engaged in speculating, theorizing, creating and questioning gender across the boundaries, including issues of sexual orientation. We emphasize interdisciplinary approaches, and encourage work on teaching as well as literary and cultural criticism and creative material. We hope an approach to pedagogy will bring in work from a wider area of disciplines. We are interested in a variety of feminisms and aim to be inclusive of ethnic and cultural diversity in an internationalist perspective. We are also committed to publishing feminist experimental prose and poetic works, and to experimenting across media. Our impetus came from the collectively-perceived lack of attention to non-linear writing, sf, fantasy, magical realism and supernatural works in feminist journals and audiences; the lack of consistently evolving developed levels of feminism in sf criticism; and the inadequacy of magical realism publishing outlets in the U.S.”

11. “Gender and Language is the journal of the International Gender and Language Association (IGALA). It is an international forum for research on and debates about feminist research on gender and language. Gender is defined broadly, as a key element of social relationships often loosely linked to perceived differences between the sexes as well as a primary arena for articulating power in complex interaction with other dimensions of power, like class, race, and sexuality. It welcomes research employing and investigating a range of different linguistic approaches (including, but not only including, conversation analysis, critical discourse analysis, ethnography of communication, sociolinguistics, linguistic anthropology, variationist sociolinguistics, stylistics and pragmatics) which focus on a range of different linguistic phenomena.”

10. "International Journal of Gender, Science and Technology (GST) is an open access, peer reviewed journal that welcomes contributions from practitioners and researchers and policy makers concerned with gender issues in and of science and technology, including engineering, construction and the built environment. Research in these areas is of interest not only to academics, but also to employers and educators involved in these sectors. We welcome contributions from a variety of disciplines and interdisciplinary perspectives and drawing on a wide range of theoretical frameworks. Our aim is to help foster and provide a focus for constructive debate and interchange of ideas between key players and experts in this field — promoting the sharing of knowledge and new understandings. GST enables those outside of academic institutions to have access to research data and results to inform strategies, responses and progress. Academic researchers will benefit from access to case studies and reports developed by practitioners and policy makers."

9. "The Journal of Feminist Scholarship is a peer-reviewed, open-access journal published online and aimed at promoting feminist scholarship across the disciplines, as well as expanding the reach and definitions of feminist research. We conceive the mission of the JFS as an exploration of the state of feminist scholarship at the turn of the new century, and we see this endeavor as part of a larger question of where feminism itself is heading. We wish to encourage a discussion of feminist thought for the twenty-first century. What are its directions today, and what relationship does it have to the foundations laid down by feminist inquiry and action of earlier centuries? We aim to publish work that explores the multiple theoretical paradigms and political agendas of contemporary and historical feminist scholarship and the potential intersections and tensions between these paradigms and agendas. We are especially interested in examining productive controversies and divergences between local and global contexts of feminism. We also welcome submissions that focus on feminist pedagogies and activism."

“Legacy is the official journal of the Society for the Study of American Women Writers. It is the only journal to focus specifically on American women’s writings from the seventeenth through twentieth century. Each issue’s articles cover a wide range of topics: examinations of the works of individual authors; genre studies; analyses of race, ethnicity, gender, class, and sexualities in women’s literature; and historical and material cultural issues pertinent to women’s lives and literary works. In addition, Legacy regularly publishes profiles of lesser-known or newly recovered authors, reprints of primary works in all genres, and book reviews covering current scholarship in the field.

11. "Persimmon Tree showcases an impressive variety of literature and art by women over 60, many still working well into their 80s and 90s. Many of the writers and artists are well-known: Marilyn French, Ruth Stone, Grace Paley, E. M. Broner, Paula Gunn Allen, Jane Lazarre, Faith Ringgold, and Nicole Hollander. Others are lesser known, while some are newly developing their craft in their later years. All of them are at the height of their creative powers, and all of them express the shared, though diverse experiences of aging women, from late middle age to late old age. Persimmon Tree is intended to fill a niche that has been neglected by contemporary publishing, whether in print or online. There is a growing body of work by male writers and artists who are entering or well into old age. But the comparable body of work by aging women in much smaller and mostly limited to a few already well-known writers and artists. Women are creating, but they are not getting the exposure they deserve."

10. “Studies in Gender and Sexuality” is a response to the excitement attendant to recent research and writing by scholars and clinicians. It provides a forum for examining gender and sexuality that is both multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary. As clinicians and scholars who have written and practiced at the intersection of feminist theory and clinical psychoanalysis, the editors are especially interested in those areas of controversy that invite the divergent perspectives and insights of different disciplines. Early issues of SGS focus on transgender identities and intersexuality; contemporary readings of the category of perversion; puberty and adolescence revised and revisited; and the intersections among class, race, and gender in theory, culture, and the clinical situation. The primary goal of SGS is to promote dialogue on these and other timely topics among clinicians, researchers, and theorists. Consonant with this goal, the journal also publishes related work from the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences, where questions involving gender and sexuality are currently in lively debate.”

TRIVIA: VOICES OF FEMINISM
1. "TRIVIA, deriving from 'tri-via' (crossroads), was one of the names of the Triple Goddess. Recognizing that what is of primary importance in women's lives tends to be relegated to the margins of patriarchal history and thought, dismissed as 'trivial,' we conceive TRIVIA: Voices of Feminism as a place at the crossroads where women's ideas can assume their original power and significance. We operate with (and within) an expansive definition of feminism, one that recognizes diversity of thought and practice across boundaries and borders of all kinds."

9. EBSCO (various products).
10. The purpose of the journal is to encourage and promote an understanding of how visual culture constructs gender in context with representations of race, age, sexuality, social units, and social class. The significance of visual culture for art education rests not so much in the object or image, but in the learning and teaching processes or practices used to expose culturally learned meanings and power relations that surround the creation, consumption, valuing, and dissemination of images. Similarly, the significance of gender for art education involves issues of equity and social justice in the learning, teaching, and practicing of art.*
