Please take about five minutes to respond to each of the questions below about this week’s class. You may choose to put your name on the form, or your responses can remain anonymous. When you have finished writing, put one copy on the table and keep the other for yourself. At the start of next week’s class, I will be sharing the responses with the group. Thank you for taking the time to do this. What you write will help me make the class more responsive to your concerns and help you to become a reflective practitioner.

1. At what moment in class did you feel most engaged in your thinking? (what belief or assumption did you question?)
2. What action that anyone took did you find most affirming or helpful in questioning?
3. When did you feel most puzzled or confused or distanced from what was happening?
4. What is one thing you learned this week that broadened your perspective or changed your thinking?
5. What disposition(s) and in what way have you developed it or has it been fostered? (thoughtful and responsive listener, preparedness, respectful, reflective, cooperative/collaborative)
6. Suggestions:
